GOVERNOR-GENERAL VINCENT MASSEY

Governor-General Opens Victoria's Art Centre

BY AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON
Governor-General Vincent Massey was right at home here today in Victoria's Arts Centre.

Moreover, he has a gold key to the door.
The key, symbolic in itself, had an additional significance in the hands of Governor-General Massey, recognized as one of Canada's and the world's greatest patron of arts.

Miss Sarah Spencer, who donated her former Moss Street residence to Victoria as an arts centre, presented the key to His Excellency. Attached to it was a tab inscribed to commemorate the event.

The governor-general toured the upper and lower galleries. With him were Ronald Grant, president of the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria; Colin Graham, the curator; Miss Spencer, Mayor C. L. Harrison, P. A. Gibbs, M.L.A., Oak Bay; Lionel Massey, son and secretary of the governor, and Mrs. Massey, daughter-in-law of His Excellency.

He was very much impressed. His Excellency said, with the work of Victoria artist William West, whose painting of Ten Mile Point has attracted wide attention. The picture has been presented to the gallery's permanent collection.

The exhibition of "fakes" intrigued him and it was something every gallery should show, he said.

He spoke of the suitability of the building to the needs of a gallery.
THANKS TO DONOR
His Excellency extended his personal thanks to Miss Spencer for her magnificent gift.

"One has only to open the door to appreciate the life and vitality stirring within these walls," he added.
He wished the gallery good luck "with all my heart".

Mr. Grant introduced guests, all members of the Gallery, to His Excellency.
Major H. Cuthbert Holmes thanked the Queen's representative.

AND THE STUDENTS, TOO?

The General's U. Likes Adlai, Too

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP).—Politics bubbled anew at Columbia University today as a university administrator came out for Governor Adlai Stevenson despite a suggestion by the institution's acting president to remain silent on the presidential race.

Dean Carl Ackerman of the university's graduate school of journalism announced his support of the Democratic nominee Tuesday night.

It was another in a chorus of pro-Stevenson voices raised at Columbia, whose president, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is on leave to seek the presidency on the Republican ticket.

Ackerman said pro-Eisenhower forces at Columbia are trying to "give the impression that the university community is solidly back of Gen. Eisenhower whereas there is tremendous support for Gov. Stevenson."

Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia's acting president, said he had "suggested" to a few Columbia administrative leaders to "refrain" from public expression of their personal preference since to do so would suggest an official attitude on the election.

Ackerman was the first university administrative official to come out for Stevenson. Last month a group of professors announced the formation of a Stevenson-for-President organization.

The Columbia Spectator, undergraduate newspaper, came out editorially for the Democratic nominee.

Greater Victoria Scouts and Cubs, 1,500 strong, today met the Top Scout in all Canada earlier. "Chief Scout" Vincent Massey ("he's Governor-General, too," as one lad explained), was greeted at Bay Street Armory at noon by a Wolf Cub "grand howl."

The Chief Scout was led into a circle of anxious Cubs by Sherman Quan, nine, of the First Chinese Cub Pack. The Burnside School youngster then led his mates in the howl.

"I have never heard a grand howl howled better than you howled it today," he said.
The Governor-General circulated among the Scouts, Cubs, and a smattering of Girl Guides, chatting with them, and using the traditional left-hand shake.

In a brief address, he laughingly explained he is not the Chief Girl Guide, but nevertheless as Chief Scout he looks on the Girl Guides as cousins.
He complimented the leaders for the "magnificent performance" and said the more young people there are in such organizations the better the country will be.

As the Chief Scout departed, Bay Street Armory shook with cheers for the distinguished visitor.
(For more stories on Mr. Massey's visit see Page 17.)

Death Waits Longer for U.S. Traitors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP).—The Supreme Court today granted a stay to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, New York couple sentenced to death for giving atom secrets to Russia.

The stay means the sentences cannot be carried out until final Supreme Court action on a petition requesting a rehearing of their appeal. Such requests for rehearing are rarely granted by the Supreme Court.

The high court refused last Monday to review the case.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia's acting president, said he had "suggested" to a few Columbia administrative leaders to "refrain" from public expression of their personal preference since to do so would suggest an official attitude on the election.

U.S. POLICY SPEECH BEFORE U.N. DELAYED

Clash Over Korea Off Until Friday

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 15 (UP).—The United States, in a sudden tactical shift, today postponed Secretary of State Dean Acheson's general policy speech before the United Nations General Assembly for "a day or two," possibly until Friday.

Acheson had been listed first on the speakers' list for the general debate in which foreign ministers customarily make policy declarations.

The postponement meant that inauguration of the general debate would be left to the smaller powers—Cuba, Brazil and Afghanistan were the first three listed—with the expected Moscow-Washington clash over Korea deferred.

While the general debate gets under way today the first major issue of the assembly came up in the steering committee where France was expected to oppose the inclusion of her disputes with Tunisia and Morocco on the assembly's agenda.

On that score, a strong movement toward mediation of the North African colonial issue developed with Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil, chairman of the powerful political committee, expected to push for a pacific settlement of the dispute off the assembly floor.

Winnipeg Hit By Snowfall, Strong Winds

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15 (CP).—While Winnipeggers slept early today, snow flurries swept the city, accompanied by strong winds which tore many live wires from power poles and disrupted street lighting.

The north winds averaged about 45 miles an hour, with gusts up to 70. The low temperature during the night was 24 degrees.

The weather office said it was the strong winds that made the accompanying snowfall seem worse than it really was, by piling the snow into drifts.

Eight Believed Dead in Dupont Plant Blast

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 15 (AP).—An explosion early today destroyed the nitro mixing building of the Dupont Company plant in Barksdale, about five miles north-west of here. Company officials said eight employees are missing and believed dead.

Damage to the plant was estimated at $75,000. Additional thousands of dollars damage was done in Ashland, where hundreds of windows were broken. The main street was covered with glass from blown-out store windows.

Police were ordered on special duty to prevent looting.

BITES OF POLTERGEISTS

Gay Ghost Heaves Small Boys, Bibles

LONDON, Oct. 15 (UP).—Ghost debunkers were baffled today by the strange occurrences in a Lancashire home where for the past six weeks furniture and other objects have been moving about mysteriously.

It looked like a simple case when the ghost hunters first were asked to investigate the house of the Sam Jones family in the town of Runcorn. "Poltergeists"—mischievous spirits—are almost always traced to mischievous boys or girls. They noted there was a 16-year-old youth lodging there.

So they kept a close watch on young John Glynn. But whether they watched him or not the dressing tables kept moving, shoes kept flying through the air, an alarm clock kept crashing to the floor so often it was smashed, a heavy trunk was upset and many more strange things happened.

Police, spiritualists, the church and psychic investigators have been prowling the house with out any clue to the origin of the disturbances. The "Psychic News," publication of the spiritualists, said the poltergeist threw a Bible at Rev. W. H. Stevens of the Methodist circuit.

U.S. Soldiers Storm Over Triangle Hill

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 15 (AP).—U.S. 7th Division troops stormed over the crest of Triangle Hill today and battled inch by inch down the northern slope of the central-front peak.

Meanwhile, other 7th Division soldiers were digging in on the crest against an expected Chinese counter-attack in strength.

Seventeen miles to the west, South Korean 9th Division troops blasted the Reds with high explosives from their last hold on blood-soaked White Horse Mountain.

Just east of Triangle, other South Koreans jumped off in a renewed assault against Sniper Ridge.

Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters in Tokyo announced that thousands of U.S. soldiers staged a mock amphibious attack on North Korea's sensitive east coast. Navy and air force planes supported the armada.

The announcement said "an actual landing was not planned or carried out."

B.C. Gets 2 Cabinet Posts; Sinclair, Campney Named

In a federal cabinet shuffle of top importance to British Columbia, Fisheries Minister Robert W. Mayhew, 72, M.P. for Victoria, today was appointed Canadian ambassador to Japan, and for the first time British Columbia was given two representatives in the Dominion government.

New appointments are James Sinclair, M.P. for Coast Capilano, who succeeds Mr. Mayhew as fisheries minister, and Ralph Campney, 58, M.P. for Vancouver Centre, who becomes solicitor-general.

The appointment of Mr. Mayhew to the ambassadorial post was widely acclaimed. It rounds out a 15-year career in federal politics, which started when he was elected Liberal M.P. for Victoria in 1937 after a 30-year Conservative rule in this constituency, and then joined the cabinet in 1948.

Announcement of the changes was made at a press conference in Ottawa by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who said the changes will be the last in the cabinet before a general election.

The increase in B.C.'s representation in the federal cabinet to two cabinet ministers was taken as national recognition of B.C.'s growing place in the scheme of Canada.

Under the latest redistribution B.C.'s representation in Parliament is to be increased from 18 to 22 members.

In the past, British Columbia has had only one cabinet minister. Mr. St. Laurent said the population of the province has been increasing more rapidly

WORD AWAITED ON BY-ELECTION

Appointment of Victoria's R. W. Mayhew as ambassador to Japan today leaves the city temporarily without representation at Ottawa.

Liberal sources here were awaiting word from Ottawa whether a by-election will be held here to fill Mr. Mayhew's seat, or whether it will be left open until the general election expected next year.

As of today Victoria is the only vacancy in the House of Commons, the standing being Liberals 183, Progressive Conservatives 49, C.C.F. 13, Social Credit 10, Independent Liberal 2, Independent 4, vacant 1.

than other parts of Canada and it now is the most populous province after Ontario and Quebec. The two central provinces each have six members in the cabinet.

The circumstances justified the appointment of two cabinet ministers from British Columbia.

Mr. St. Laurent said the appointments were in no way connected with the defeat of the Liberal government in British Columbia last June.

B.C.'s Growth Gains Recognition

He referred to the "stupendous" industrial developments in British Columbia and Quebec and said he hoped the people of Canada will feel that the government is doing its best to see that all sections of the Canadian economy are represented in the cabinet.

The solicitor-general's post taken by Mr. Campney was formerly handled by Justice Minister Stuart Garson.

Mr. Mayhew becomes Canada's first postwar ambassador to Japan. Arthur Menzies, a career diplomat, has been heading the Canadian mission to Japan.

Mr. Mayhew's appointment takes effect November 15. It was described by Mr. St. Laurent as one which has "delighted" the Japanese and which gives Canada an envoy who has great knowledge of the trade and other problems between the two countries.

Mr. St. Laurent said Mr. Mayhew had been planning to retire from public life and it was only the "urgent insistence" of the government that he agreed to continue at least until the dissolution of Parliament.

Mr. Mayhew had said that when he retired from the Commons he would not be interested in an appointment to the Senate.

Mr. Mayhew agreed to accept the Japan post "for a period." He took part in the conference, which settled the peace treaty with Japan.

Mr. Mayhew's long association with British Columbia and, above all, his direct and intimate knowledge of government generally, give him unique qualifications for this very important post, said Mr. St. Laurent.

On all sides, the appointment was taken as "an honor to Victoria" and a keen appreciation of the qualities Mr. Mayhew has always shown in his public offices.

His attention to the letters and inquiries of his constituents is "local legend." No matter what the organization, who the person or how far removed from his own sphere the query might be it was always said Mr. Mayhew saw that it got to the proper authorities, and advised the writer of action taken.

"The right man for any big job," said Tom Denny, Chamber of Commerce president, when he heard of the appointment.

His comment was echoed by men and women, prominent in every phase of civic, community and industrial life in Victoria.

Mayor Claude Harrison: "The appointment is a welcome one. I think he will fill the bill excellently."

Boss Johnson: "It's a wonderful appointment. He's so well fitted for the job he has studied the problems of the Far East."

Tom Denny: "Mr. Mayhew is the right man for any big job. We are naturally proud that a Victoria man should be selected for such a high post. Everything he has gone after for the betterment of Victoria he has obtained."

Thomas Gooderham, organizer for the Trades and Labor Congress: "He has always co-operated with any organization on inquiries made. He is regarded very highly by many labor representatives."

Derek Todd, of J. H. Todd & Sons: "We will certainly miss him from the post of fisheries minister. He has been very helpful to the industry in British Columbia. He will be hard to replace but I imagine he will make a very fine ambassador to Japan."

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A.: "I think the choice is a very happy one. Mr. Mayhew has always put so much of himself into all the public offices he has undertaken that I feel sure the people of Canada will have reason to be proud of his achievements in this new and most responsible position."

Ald. William Pinfold: "It's a great honor for someone who has worked so hard for Canada. He is very interested in Far Eastern affairs."

Fred McGregor: "The appointment shows how much Premier St. Laurent appreciates what our friend Bob has meant to the people of Canada whom he has served so nobly. It's unfortunate he will not be able to represent us any more, but it will be a comfort to all Canadians to know we have such a genial ambassador in Japan."

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

I have been reading about a former Pittsburgh high school football coach who quit coaching because he couldn't stomach any longer the commercialism of Pittsburgh high school football. I admire the guy's attitude.

He saw a game—and he honestly thought it was a game—converted into an over-emphasized money-making spectacle that was interfering with the ordinary physical education program of schools. He saw contests under floodlights where scant attention was paid to the welfare of the young gladiators. He saw money that might have been used sanely to improve the body-building character-building features of school athletics turned into big stadia for an exclusive few, and a recruiting program by universities which allowed the mentally-muscle-bound through on soft touch courses merely because they could kick, run, pass and tackle.

He'd played high school and college football. He'd coached in Pittsburgh public schools for the last 20 years. Now he's had enough.

When a man like him spells out in detail the abuses he has seen creeping into a game, his opinion is worth noting.

Of course it couldn't happen here. Or could it? Probably not as misdirected-over-emphasis in the school system. Public schools in this area spread their athletic programs over a lot of ground. Each school strives for championships in a pretty healthy return to the competitive spirit in recent years. But while the top team may enjoy limited privileges, they do not extend to the point at which they interfere with other activities for the less proficient youngsters.

Safe as It Is

While the men now in charge of the schools stay in office—and for as long as their influence is felt—there shouldn't be much room for concern over the conditions which drove the Pittsburgh coach from the coaching game.

Outside the schools, you begin to wonder. And if you're inclined to be a worrier, you might start getting nervous about sponsored teams. The theory of the sponsored team is excellent up to a point. The sponsor provides the equipment needed by youngsters who aren't able to acquire it for themselves.

And where, pray, are these youngsters? Don't ask me. I don't know. Most of the youngsters I see aren't so underprivileged that they couldn't save their pennies to buy the bare essentials for themselves.

Sure, I'm an old mossback. I remember when we were kids and we bought our own football boots and the woolen undershirts Oak Bay High dyed green and sold to the students as rugby sweaters.

Just an Old Mossback

I'm such an old mossback that I can remember when we used to get bags of sawdust ourselves and mark out our own football fields. I remember when we used to save our pocket money and birthday money and Christmas money in case we had a chance to make an away trip, or to rent the rink at four-bits a head to play hockey.

But sponsors we never knew. Maybe we weren't good enough to claim any reward. Nobody asked us to play for a certain team because it would give us a uniform, a sweatshirt or a wind breaker.

Just possibly some kids were so poor they were shut out of sport. If they were, I didn't know them. And we all played because we liked playing. Dagnabbit, we musta been amateurs.

On the other hand, nobody much wanted to watch us play. We weren't stadium bait for Saturday's thousands. We never saw our athletic abilities, if any, converted into ticket-wicket appeal.

Come to think of it, there seldom were crowds at our games—except maybe at swimming galas at the Gorge. Maybe we weren't worth exploiting. Maybe there was no advertising value in us from a potential sponsor's point of view. Or maybe the great pastime of broadening hips by extended sitting in a stadium wasn't so popular with so many people.

Anyhow, as youngsters, we weren't familiar with any potentialities we might have had as box-office lure. We just grew up ignorant of the possibility somebody might want to pay to see us play, or that somebody might think it worth while sponsoring us. Games were just games. We played them for fun. But we never lost any coaches because they had a bellyful of commercialism and exploitation.

Loss of Revenue Seen If Track Plan Killed

Geoffrey I. Edgelow, publisher of Island Events magazine and unsuccessful Liberal candidate in Esquimalt in the last provincial election, declared Tuesday night that Victoria stands to lose considerable revenue if it passes by the opportunity to have an amusement park at the Gorge and a racetrack in Saanich.

Speaking at a meeting of the Victoria North Kiwanis Club at the Monterey Restaurant, Mr. Edgelow maintained the two proposed developments represented large investments by outside interests and would not cost local residents a cent.

They would, he insisted, benefit the entire area through increased tourist revenue.

"Victoria must wake up or it will find other more aggressive portions of Vancouver Island pulling ahead."

TV for Taverns
Barman's DreamRecommendation Made to Liquor Inquiry
When Vancouver Union Presents Its Brief

Television for beer parlors was recommended to the liquor inquiry commission Tuesday by the Vancouver Local Joint Executive Board of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' and Bartenders' Union.

A. R. Johnstone, the union's international vice-president, suggested music and television might serve to keep the drinkers' minds off the beer.

The official also told the committee beer parlors should be allowed to serve sandwiches and soft drinks, possibly something like Alberta's red-eye—a mixture of beer and tomato juice.

This caused committee chairman H. H. Stevens to remark: "Sounds horrible."

W.C.T.U. representative Fern Wrath contended no district should be saddled with licensed premises without the consent of the community.

Her organization is opposed to all night clubs.

Britannia Branch (Victoria) and Duncan branch of the Canadian Legion asked that present laws be amended to allow them to sell draught beer in their cocktail lounges.

EMBARGO SUPPORTED

The B.C. Federation of Agriculture, represented by secretary-treasurer Charles Walls, urged continuation of the embargo on U.S. wines as protection for B.C. wine-grape growers.

W. A. Scott startled the committee by urging the public stocks as a method of punishment for drunkards.

The committee will hold another Victoria hearing in about three weeks, if necessary.

A Greater Victoria Citizens' Association brief, presented last week in Vancouver in conjunction with the Alcohol Research Council, urged the committee to recommend a greatly enlarged program of alcohol education at all levels.

The brief also advised the committee to study methods of establishing rehabilitation centres for alcoholics.

The two groups feel the committee should be empowered to investigate the entire subject of the manufacture, distribution and sale of alcohol.

The panel will be broadcast from 9:05 to 10 p.m. over CKDA when representatives of the community and educational groups will discuss the college's responsibility in the community.

An open meeting for the public, the evening's events will begin at 8 when the new Ewing Memorial Library will be open for inspection.

At 8:30 a program of recorded music will be presented in the auditorium by the music appreciation club of Victoria College.

BERLIN, Oct. 15 (Reuters)—The East Berlin semi-official Berliner Zeitung described L. B. Pearson, Canadian external affairs minister and president of the United Nations general assembly, "as an obedient servant of Wall Street."

The paper claimed that Pearson, a share-holder of many American corporations, had received valuable gifts from American business men for the conclusion of favorable contracts.

"As a chairman of the permanent committee of the North Atlantic bloc, Pearson delivered even more aggressive speeches than the United States representatives," the Communist paper claimed.

Youngster Gives Murder Details
As Calif. Police Pick Up Neighbor

CHESTER, Cal., Oct. 15 (AP)—Sondra Young, 14, told officers Sunday of two robbers who beat her father and three children to death Friday, and left her, too, for dead.

The 3½-year-old daughter of Guard Young, Chester grocer, related first from a hospital bed and later at the scene of the crime, details that led District Attorney Bertrand James to say he is confident that he can identify the killers if they are found.

Meanwhile, during the day Reno, Nev., officers acting on word from Plumas County officers, picked up Louis Edmond Blair, 37, at a roadblock north of Reno.

Blair, owner of the Chester movie theatre and a neighbor of the Youngs, denied any knowledge of the slayings.

Sondra suffered a skull fracture and other injuries at the hands of the killers.

Photos of Wreck Which Took 111 Lives

IMMENSITY of the tragedy when a triple rail disaster is shown in this picture of splintered coaches, toppled locomotive and tenders with crane in background removing wreckage.

AS GIANT CRANES begin to move pieces of wreckage a serviceman crawls precariously up the side of a toppled car with a hose as a precaution against what would have been the culmination of horror, an outbreak of fire in the debris under which injured were still trapped.

AN IDEA of the shattering force of the crash and the difficulty of rescue work is given by this picture. At least six separate sets of wheels are stacked one on top of the other. This mass of wreckage towered 40 feet high.

PILED HIGH wreckage made rescue work extremely difficult. Many victims, still living, were not brought out of the tragic welter until 24 hours after the crash.

Honolulu Can Teach Victoria About Tourism, Kiwanis Told

Suggestion that Victoria promoters of the tourist industry might learn a great deal of value from Honolulu was made to a Kiwanis luncheon meeting Tuesday, by Dr. W. G. Wilson, retired city minister.

Dr. Wilson, retired since 1933, is a member-speaker of the Kiwanis Club of long standing. Impressions gathered during a trip to Honolulu were used by the speaker to point up the undeveloped potential of the tourist trade on Vancouver Island, where "we have more and better scenery."

"Everything is open to the tourist there," he observed, and many small services are performed for the visitor with the smiling comment, "No charge... you're in Honolulu."

The fact that mainlanders flock to the far-off islands at a cost to a motoring tourist of about $640.00 compared to a motorist's fare of almost $20,000 from Seattle to Victoria, can be only attributed to the unlimited publicity provided by the Honolulu interests, he implied. Victorians spent $25,000 annually to this

Drew Urges Ottawa Ease Price on Gold

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Oct. 15 (BUP).—Progressive Conservative leader George Drew told 200 party followers in this gold mining city Tuesday that the government should "take the shackles off gold," reduce taxes and win back British food markets.

On the second day of a six-day tour of northern Ontario, Drew said gold coins should be minted again. If they were, he said, there would be a world-wide demand for them.

"People want that ancient symbol of value," he said.

Many believed gold should be sold at a price that would allow northern Ontario's mines to continue production and that problem could be solved "by political expression alone," he said.

Drew accused the government of losing almost entirely the British market for cheese, bacon, poultry products and grains. Total exports to the United Kingdom continued high, he said, only because of raw materials needed by Britain's defense program.

Calling for lower taxes, Drew said the government had been taking from the people about $1,000,000 a day more than was necessary.

U.K. Rejects Iran's Oil Tiff Solution

LONDON, Oct. 15 (Reuters).—Britain has rejected as "unreasonable" Iran's proposal for immediate negotiations to settle the long-standing oil dispute, the foreign office announced today.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh has called a meeting of the Majlis (Lower-House of Parliament) Thursday to map his next step.

In a note Tuesday, Britain turned down Iran's plan for immediate negotiations on two main grounds:

1. Mossadegh's demand for $49,000,000 within the first three weeks of the proposed negotiations was out of the question.
2. Iran's proposal covered only compensation of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's "physical installations" in Iran. The company seeks wider compensation for the cancellation of its oil concession 40 years before the expiration date.

Chief stickler to reopening of negotiations is Iran's demand for an instalment of $20,000,000 before the talks open, the British note said.

Welcoming a Fine Canadian

VICTORIA HAS EXTENDED TO His Excellency the Governor General the welcome it traditionally accords the sovereign's representative in Canada. Yet there has been something more to the occasion than to any reception given to his predecessors.

For Victoria also welcomes a distinguished Canadian whose services to other Canadians have won him respect beyond that due to persons occupying his present office.

The Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey is no stranger to Victorians. They remember his previous visit as chairman of the Royal Commission on national development in the arts, letters and sciences—a task of tremendous scope in which he and his associates traveled 10,000 miles, held 224 meetings, 114 of them in public sessions, and heard 462 briefs in the presentation of which 1,200 witnesses offered submissions.

From those inquiries has come the Massey Report, a best-seller in this country, conveying recommendations for advancement in the subjects with which it concerned itself and already effective in winning federal assistance for Canadian universities.

Significant as has been that contribution to Canadian life, it is by no means an isolated claim to Canadians' gratitude and affection.

Following earlier successes in business and public service, Mr. Massey accepted appointment to the post of Canadian High Commissioner in London in 1935, serving this country well and declining to leave his duties there during the heaviest bombing raids of the war.

There was, among Victoria servicemen he met today, a sincere appreciation for the hospitality he and the late Mrs. Massey extended to them in the grim days of battle.

It is characteristic that the man who set down his views "On Being Canadian" in 1948—a work showing his deep study of this land, its hopes and aspirations—should have announced his intention of meeting as many Canadians as possible, not only in the well-settled areas of Canada but in outposts of the Arctic and on the cold shores of Labrador.

Mr. Massey's present visit to Victoria is short and crowded. During it he is becoming acquainted with more of the people of the Pacific Coast. He has officiated, appropriately, at the formal opening of the Arts Centre. He has inspected Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, in whom he has a sincere interest. And he has performed other duties of his office.

During his brief stay, this community takes the opportunity to thank him for his past services, hopes that he has recovered fully from the indisposition which marred his prairie sojourn, and wishes him well in the execution of his onerous new duties.

Mr. Gardiner's Canned Pork

THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT's attempt to rig the meat market (with the full support of the Conservative party and the C.C.F.) now reels towards its ultimate absurdity.

Since the beginning of this year, The Financial Post reports, the government has bought up 56 million pounds of Canadian pork, to maintain high pork prices, and has sold only 17 million pounds. In the same period, through a complicated three-way deal with New Zealand, Britain and the United States, Canada has taken delivery of 63 million pounds of New Zealand beef in the United States, intending to sell it there in place of our prohibited Canadian beef. So far only three million pounds of the New Zealand beef, bought by Canada, has been sold to the Americans.

Thus the Canadian Government has 100 million pounds of meat on its hands and is currently selling less than it is buying from the farmers. Who pays for all this? Nobody but the Canadian taxpayer, through taxes, and the Canadian consumer through high meat prices.

It is reckoned that so far the government has taken a loss of $25 millions on its price-support policy. All that comes out of the taxpayer's purse. And in addition he is paying higher meat prices than he should have to pay.

At the moment, Mr. Gardiner, the architect of this policy, is trying to unload his vast accumulation of canned pork at bargain prices. This is good meat and relatively cheap. The housewife will be wise to buy it, remembering that, as a taxpayer, she must pay the full cost of the finished product even if it is marked down in the stores.

"Actually," as The Post says, "if our markets were permitted to function normally, our fantastic meat surplus problem would be readily solved. Our population, by eating only a little more than half a pound more per person per month, would easily consume it. And we would do so if the price were lower."

It is held up by the government, at the cost of the consumer and taxpayer, to satisfy the farmers. No one who understands the importance of agriculture in the Canadian economy wishes to see it depressed. The farmer's prosperity is essential to the prosperity of everyone in the nation. But in the end the farmer will profit more by taking a small cut in meat prices and eliminating the surplus than by maintaining an artificial price which the taxpayers and consumers will not continue to pay indefinitely.

An industry which lives on a state subsidy—for that is what it amounts to—is always at the mercy of sudden change in government policy, and the present policy is becoming too ridiculous, and costly and unmanageable to last much longer.

It Might Work Wonders

DR. W. G. WILSON, IN ONE OF his customarily witty and provocative addresses to the Kiwanis club here Tuesday, had some trenchant observations to make about driving in Victoria. On a recent trip to Honolulu, Dr. Wilson was impressed with the courtesy of Hawaiian drivers. He thinks their performance compares favorably with those of a dozen other North American cities in which he has driven; he also thinks Victorians rank "very near the bottom."

He told of a recent attempt to make a left-hand turn into St. Charles Street from Fort. Seventeen Victoria drivers went by, ignoring his outstretched arm, before he was able to make the turn.

As Dr. Wilson sees it, the basic job to be done lies in educating drivers in highway courtesies. In Honolulu, the head of the city's traffic department makes regular guest appearances at service clubs. He begins his talk by saying: "By the end of this year, two of you in this audience will be dead." Having riveted his audience's attention with this vivid introduction, he proceeds to give them a straightforward talk on traffic rules and regulations, highway manners, sign recognition, and so on.

We commend this approach to Messrs. Doble, Douglass and Davidson. While conceding that Victoria has some peculiar traffic problems, we agree with Mr. Wilson that the introduction of a little old-fashioned courtesy into local driving might work wonders.

Sharing Profits From Wildlife

THE VICTORIA NATURAL HISTORY Society is to be complimented on the departure it has made in its Audubon lecture series this year. For the first time the society is financing the appearance of its visiting authorities in certain schools selected by the Greater Victoria School Board.

This innovation has been made possible by the generosity of the society itself and the strong support it has found in this region. The actual funds to pay the fees for school lectures represent the profits the group has made on its activities during the last five seasons.

While the programs of other years have adequately justified themselves in stimulating an interest in wildlife and conservation, the approach to the younger age groups is even more promising. By reaching the latter, it should be possible to encourage in them an interest in the natural world around them and a recognition of the importance of preserving various species for the enjoyment of future generations.

There are many ways in which the Victoria Natural History Society might have spent its profits. It is difficult to think of any offering greater benefits than the one that has been chosen.

Chips

By DAVID BROCK

AN ENGLISH editor made a rude remark about prunes, and various readers wrote to reprove him. One reader even said he was guilty of bad taste, to mock somebody else's food! Other readers were more helpful. They told him the only way to make prunes edible is to soak them in gin for a long time... off the prunes for half a year. But it seems a long time to wait for the gin. Especially as gin doesn't improve with age but is sold hot out of the still. (Why shouldn't it improve with age, if other spirits do? Don't ask me. You'd think ageing in wood would get rid of some of the fusel oils, etc. By the way, you should shake a gin bottle well before opening it, to distribute the fusel oil throughout the contents instead of getting a semi-lethal slug of it in the first glass.) The prunes, incidentally, are soaked raw, not stewed, which enables them to soak up the old gin.

NOT SO V.V.

TALKING of the age of spirits, there is a great deal of snobbery in London, New York, and Paris about Napoleon brandy. Napoleon must have had a mighty big cellar if all Napoleon brandy is genuine. The whole of Paris must have been honeycombed with his vaults. I once saw a bottle of Napoleon brandy in a shop window in the Earl's Court Road in London W.8. I don't know if it was genuine, but the price was, I think they wanted three guineas for it. I didn't buy it. I wish now that I did. I had some spare money in those days, and sought new experiences more eagerly too. I'd even have spent another half-guinea having a few drops of the stuff analyzed.

AND besides, in those days I didn't know, as I do now, that brandy more than a hundred years old is no better than brandy forty years old. Further, the way to keep improving the stuff is not to let it languish in a sealed bottle, but to keep it in a cask or large vat, and add new brandy to it every few years, to give it life. This process encourages it, I know not why. And after forty years of this, it can be improved no further. It is then called V.V.S.O.P., which means Very Very Special Old Pale. And it is much older than anything you'll meet on the local shelves. So the heck with Napoleon brandy, if 1912 is quite as good as 1812. Any joke on any snob is good enough for old Dave.

BRANDY, by the way, is used in one of the queerest soups I ever heard of. Brandy Broth. You simmer a chicken, a ham, and a small shoulder of mutton till almost done. Then you start adding trout roe mixed with cream, butter, egg yolks, carrots, turnips, marrow (meat marrow, not veg. marrow) and mashed potatoes. Also brandy and beer, followed by plain brandy, followed by brandy and chopped leeks. Wow. I'm surprised there isn't a parsnip, though. Turnip does wonders to soup, but parsnip is better still... in fact, if more than excuses the invention of the parsnip, which is a bold statement indeed. When I told my wife about this soup, she didn't object to the waste of brandy. She just wanted to know why she should throw a perfectly good chicken, ham and shoulder of mutton into any old soup pot. Well, for one thing, this isn't just any old soup... obviously. And for another thing, you get your chicken, ham, and mutton back again, don't you?

IN THE SOUP

THE Swedes make a lager beer soup which is supposed to be very pleasing to anyone who thinks of pleasure in terms of lager beer soup. Count me out. Me, I like Swedish punch (Svenske punch, it is) would be better still to put in your soup. I once poured a lot of whisky into my soup-plate, to shock a young cousin who had annoyed me. I expected the soup to taste heavenly after that. Not only was it delicious, but my young cousin tampered with her own soup in the same way and was grateful to me for my knowing tip. Darn her.

MOTIVE

I HAVE before me a letter from an English bookmaking firm. It must be of the distinguished outfit indeed, for one of the directors is Sir Humphrey de Trafford, Bart. Anyhow, the letter begins: "Dear Sir or Madam, This letter is intended only for those who are followers of our great traditional sport of racing, for it is not our wish to induce members of the public to bet, nor to encourage the belief that racing is the royal road to fortune." No?

FUNDAMENTALISM

A "MODERN" composer (what an unsatisfactory word is "modern")... a modern composer asked me what grudge I had against modern composers. I said it must be their religion... they are Fundamentalists, and take the Bible too literally. She was a little aghast and asked me to explain before she sent for the doctor, so I did explain. I said they really do believe in not letting their right hand know what their left hand is doing. (All right... I know... it is vice versa. But I mean it both ways, and so must the sixth chapter of St. Matthew.) I'll say one thing for them, though. Four verses further on is something they don't take literally. We are told not to use vain repetitions, but they just go right ahead with them anyway.

BRACKETS

I HAD a letter from a friend, asking me not to be so unfair to X, an acquaintance of ours. "X is fighting away out of his class," says the letter. "Or do they call a class a weight-bracket now?" I dunno. But the bracket industry is certainly booming. It embraces (or brackets, if you like) income, rank, importance, and heaven knows what. What fun it would be to go into a restaurant and ask for a high-bracket cheese and a medium-bracket wine. If our restaurants happened to be in the wine-selling bracket.

As Our Readers See It

MUZZLE VELOCITIES

In a recent issue some one asked your answer to the question:

If a plane is traveling at 500 miles per hour and a shell is fired from it dead astern, would the shell drop in a perpendicular line to the earth? Answer, yes.

A plane speed of 500 m.p.h. equals 733.3 feet per second.

Now, a plane speed of 733 f.p.s. is much slower than even old antiquated firearms of black powder days. The present 30-30 Winchester offers several bullet weights from 150 grains to 220 grains, the heavier bullet being slower than the lighter bullet.

The 180 gr. bullet leaves this gun at 2,200 feet per second. Deduct the forward plane speed of 733 f.p.s. and you have a muzzle velocity for the bullet of 1,467 f.p.s. which is sufficient to kill man and small game.

The 30-06 sporting rifle has a bullet of 2,947 f.p.s. Deduct 733 f.p.s. plane speed from this and you have an actual bullet velocity of 2,214 f.p.s. as high as that of the 30-30 at muzzle.

Planes are coming into more general use among farmers as a means of commuting and these folk often hunt coyotes from small low-flying planes. The public should know that a shot fired from a plane is deadly should it find its mark.

GROUND FOR DIVORCE

Your editorial, Mr. Editor, "More Words on Divorce" shows again how backward official Canada is in this important matter; and this undoubtedly, as a result of the objections of the church and its henchmen against a more humane attitude. As long as Canada is as church-ridden as it is, one can hardly expect anything better, which does not mean that those of us, who have more enlightened ideas, should not fight for something better, whenever they can.

Marriage is supposed to be based on love for each other, and by the same token, if that love disappears, for whatever reason—or never has existed, as quite often happens—there surely is, morally, every reason for divorce as pointed out forcibly in the article, "Why Not Divorce?" in New Liberty, September, 1951.

That a severance of the marriage ties has to be accompanied by measures which take care of eventual children and, where necessary, of some kind of security for the woman (or man) involved, is only logical where people live in a so-called civilized country.

On the other hand, those who oppose divorce on this principle and so force a man and wife to live in a "hell" on this earth, are committing a crime, as stressed in that article.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Appropos the comments made by Fred Jarrett in "As Our Readers See It," I do not think anyone will disagree with him concerning the principles of fair play. We cannot, however, do much else but "cuss" (as he puts it) the Social Credit government.

Take one issue—the one on which the S.C. party rode into power—Hospital Insurance Service. Basing their assumption on promises made by the now premier—a large majority of the people are in doubt as to whether H.I.S. is compulsory or not. Theoretically it should not be. And yet, in a recent speech in Vernon—after much heckling, the minister of health and welfare admitted that it definitely is compulsory.

If this is so, why are prosecutions not being carried out? It is surely only in this manner that the interests of people who live up to their obligations can be protected against the less scrupulous citizen. H.I.S. appears to be a bigger sham than ever—and not—as most people would believe, because of faulty administration, but faulty and equivocal direction from the premier's office.

We will be proud of the "stable and efficient management" of the government, as Mr. Jarrett suggests, when they do something to earn that accolade.

Little Merchants

Ottawa Citizen

Seventeen Britons, after studying newspaper production methods in the United States, recommended among other things that their own country might well do well to copy the American "little merchant" newsboy system. And they might have added, Canada's as well.

Canadians have become so accustomed to the young merchant idea that they may tend to assume it is a universal custom. But in Britain, as the investigating team points out, youngsters who deliver papers to homes are almost always paid a straight wage. There is little incentive to go out and drum up more business.

In Canadian towns, a lad with a thinly-spaced route to cover knows how to increase his revenue per bicycle stop. He simply tries to fill in as many of the intervening spaces as he can, by attracting new customers. And he can be very persuasive about it. His success in building up a route may be a pretty fair guide to his future career when he grows up. It doesn't automatically follow that the enterprising newsboy of today is the tycoon of tomorrow, but certainly no one will deny that the experience he gains does him any harm in learning about people and their ways.

No Boats

Ottawa Citizen

When the Aorangi is withdrawn from service next May, the largest ocean liner in the world will be empty of luxury liners.

Flying ships rather than floating hotels now provide luxury service to the Orient. The change, while inevitable, does not come without regrets. For most people, the idea of traveling by big, beautiful boat, across the Pacific, never had much chance of realization. Still, it is sad to have to discard such a lovely idea.

Question Of Replacement

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, from Washington

THE MUCH fiercer fighting on the ground in Korea must, as Mr. Walter Mills said last week, have been discussed during the recent mission of Chou En-lai to Moscow. The Chinese were in Moscow from August 18 to September 22, and the present outburst of heavy fighting began on October 6. What is going on now is not a mere local skirmish, the kind of fighting which could break out at the front, without considerable planning and preparation in the rear. The expenditure in munitions alone has been unusually large, and at the very least arrangements must have been made in Moscow to replenish the Chinese stockpiles.

This military action may be no more than the Chinese answer to the increase of our air attacks which began with the bombing of the power plants. The Chinese are unable to retaliate with heavy bombers, and they have suffered big losses in aerial combat. They have a shortage of material equipment but they have inexhaustible reserves of man power.

It is not unlikely that they are answering our aerial pressure with the kind of military force in which they have superiority, that is to say in the mass of the infantry they can call upon, and in the casualties they are able to make their ground troops, and the Chinese public at home, accept.

FIGHTING RENEWED

The intensified infantry fighting broke out just as Gen. Eisenhower began to discuss the idea of manning the front lines with Korean troops, and of drawing our own troops back into reserve positions.

His first speech on this theme was made on October 2 at Champaign, Ill., where he was reported as saying that we should arm the South Koreans as rapidly as possible and when they are in a position to defend themselves, we should withdraw American troops.

This is certainly the right ultimate objective. The South Koreans should be enabled to defend Korea. The crucial question is when and how the Koreans can, as Gen. Eisenhower says, be brought to a condition where they can defend themselves.

How we answer this question today depends on what theory we adopt about the intentions of the Communists in the Korean war.

Now, if it were possible to have an armistice, there is no doubt that Gen. Eisenhower's proposal could be carried out. It has, in fact, always been American policy that when an armistice has been achieved, the defense of South Korea would be based on a Korean army supported by an American guarantee of full assistance in case of a renewal of aggression.

SAME DEFENSE

Once the war was over, the defense of Korea against another war would be the same as the defense of, let us say, Turkey or Norway or any other country which has its own forces and is also insured by the guarantees of an alliance.

But the prospect of an armistice in Korea is very poor, in the opinion of many it has never been good. The practical question, therefore, is how far it is possible to go—while the war is still on—to replace Americans with Koreans.

The best that can be expected and all that anyone can now promise is—assuming an armistice and also not too intense fighting—that gradually Americans may have to spend less time at the Korean front.

There is, therefore, no escape from the conclusion that within the foreseeable future there can be no sizeable withdrawal of American infantry from the Korean front unless there is an armistice. That is the harsh fact of the matter.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"EVERYBODY," said the Elevator Man, "claims he'd like to know the future. And most people do know it—eventually. They find it out when it arrives. But it's doubtful whether we really would like it if we could tell what's going to happen a day or a week or a year from now. Most folks who long for the ability to foretell events think of it on a selective basis. They just pick out things they'd like to know about. But such a gift would likely be an all or nothing deal. If you were to know a little bit you'd know it all. You'd know the bad as well as the good. You'd know you're going to get a yacht next Christmas, but you'd also know you're going to break your leg next New Year's. You'd know what the market's going to do, but also that your own investments would go wrong. You'd know the joys ahead for you, and the day of your death. Lower main!"

"Taken all round," said the Elevator Man, "we're a lot happier off not knowing what's ahead. A life without a surprise in it would be a pretty dull thing. That's one of the penalties of being a monarch, I guess. I see where the Queen's schedule is made up for a year ahead. She can look in the engagement book and know what she's going to be doing at almost any minute of the day in the months to come. Not much fun in that. It must make more valuable than ever the little free times, the unscheduled moments, if any, that mean a little relaxation and fun. The old wish, 'Oh to be Queen for a day' was a clever one. Who'd want it for longer? Mezzanine!"

"Wanting," said the Elevator Man, "to know the future is only a step ahead of wanting to influence it. The man hasn't lived who didn't figure he could do a better job of running the world than is being done. And prayer, of course, is one way of trying to insert your preferences. It's like that father talking to his little boy. 'Aren't you glad now you prayed for a baby sister?' he asked. 'Yes,' says Johnnie, glancing at the twins. 'But aren't you glad I stopped when I did?'"

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1852—2,032.9 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: In the last 16 days no measurable rain has fallen in southern Vancouver Island or the lower mainland. A large well-established high pressure area which has been anchored just off the coast has regularly deflected Pacific disturbances to the north.

This high is now showing signs of breaking down. A disturbance managed to penetrate at least the northern part of this barrier to give rain in the northern sections and increasing cloud to the interior this morning. The disturbance should bring cloud to the south coast Thursday.

TENDERS FOR BIG PIPELINE RECOMMENDED

Calling for tenders for manufacture and installation of a $1,500,000 water main from Thetis Lake Road to Smith's Hill will be recommended to Greater Victoria Water Board when it meets Monday afternoon at 2.

Chief Commissioner Ron Upward and Commissioner I. D. Lacklan will recommend that approximately $800,000 be spent on purchase and manufacture of pipe and $700,000 on installation.

The project is the second half of the No. 3 main and is expected to be discussed at length by board members.

Commissioners report that pipe is now available. The steel shortage held the work up until now.

C.P.R. Investigates Wreck Which Kills 2

GOLDEN, B.C., Oct. 15 (BUP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway scheduled an investigation today into the derailment of one of its freight trains Tuesday which killed two crewmen and injured a third.

Killed when the six-car freight plunged from the tracks were Dominic Lombardo, 55, and Clyde Bonora, 27, both of Revelstoke, B.C., suffering a broken arm and leg was S. W. Clinton, also of Revelstoke.

The C.P.R.'s trans-continental line was blocked for seven hours until crews cleared the wreckage.

Rubber-Jointed Athletes Learn New Tricks, Twists

By PETE LOUDON
Another of the varied Pro-Rec activities of the 1952-53 season was displayed by Ed Kelter's rubber-jointed young men Tuesday night at a gym class at the Crystal Garden.

As in all other Pro-Rec sports, the students represent all trades and professions. This sport needs the suppleness of youth. Kelter, the popular Pro-Rec head man, is the exception of course. While Ed could not in honesty be called a youngster, he does not hesitate to show the class that anything they can do he can do better.

The warm-up exercises done by Kelter and his assistants, Bill Angus, Dan Frances and Bill O'Brien on the trampoline set a high mark for the new students to aim at.

The trampoline is a canvas mat suspended three feet above the floor by powerful springs. A person jumping into the centre of the approximately 10-by-16-foot mat is rebounded into the lower atmosphere. These acrobats enjoy themselves most when in free flight.

Planners Consider Track Application

A new application from the Royal Portage Parks Ltd. for rezoning of property to allow construction of a race track in Saanich was referred by Saanich Council Tuesday to the town planning commission for consideration.

The application seeks the rezoning of 527 acres of land. Boundaries of property involved are: Charlton Road on the north, the municipal boundary on the south, Granville Avenue on the east and Prospect Lake Road on the west.

The company stated that the property will be used for the erection of a race track, exhibition grounds and botanical gardens. This is the second application the firm has submitted to the council. The first application was rejected by the council on the grounds that it was not "acceptable in its present form."

Argentina has more than 27,000 miles of railways, all property of the state.

Stamps Humble Flyers, Canucks Bow to Royals

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The morning after, or who can figure out the Western Hockey League after just one week.

What happens? Vancouver beats Victoria; New Westminster trims Vancouver; Seattle hands New Westminster their worst beating since the Royals came into being; Tacoma trims Seattle and Victoria wallops the whey out of the Rockets.

Back where it all started, that is except for Saskatoon who have yet to taste the ignominy of defeat. The Quakers are rolling again.

And of course there's football! Phil Lee, fellow staffer and president of the Junior Canadian Football League. He no sooner puts Toronto Argos on a pedestal, but Hamilton Tiger Cats knock 'em off. Better see what he has to say for himself today. . . . Hmmm. . . . Phil. . . . Seriously though, he's one of the reasons why the junior league is drawing more fans than ever before. . . . The calibre of the game is up, too. . . . Now if we can only get the game in the schools where it belongs and instruct the fans in the rules.

And what about Vancouver Pilseners dropping that Canadian boxa final to Peterborough in four games. . . . The office was said of this: "That was a bitter pill for them to swallow, wasn't it?"

Walker And more of that week-end stuff. . . . Down in Seattle they'd ballyhooed the University of Washington Huskies into the greatest thing since the forward pass in football. Saturday's result: Illinois 48, Washington 14. . . . Nuff said.

George Eade's United football team continues to roll merrily along. Three straight victories the blues have scored with jumpin' Bill McAllister the latest hero to earn the laurel wreath. . . . Passing note: Now, when John Pickburn gets into shape. . . .

NEWS ITEM: Eddie Dorohov, coach of the Cougars, said last week he wanted a right winger and had told the Cougar manager so.

ANOTHER NEWS ITEM: Right winger Jim Fairburn acquired by the Cougars from Seattle. Any more requests Eddie? Always glad to lend a hand. . . .

Keeping the record straight dept. If anybody's wondering, Eddie had a strip ripped off for Friday's display in Vancouver when, for a moment, he did forget that he was the coach, must act the part, display the poise and earn the respect, not only of the players, but the fans.

STOLEN PARAGRAPH: Dick Irvin, coach of the Montreal Canadiens, speaking of the Cougars: "Reg Abbott, that's my boy."

As near as can be ascertained here's what's in store for cagers in the matter of new rules this year. . . . Except in the case of double, multiple and technical fouls; the thrower will get another try if he misses his first. . . . no foul shots may be waived in preference for throw-ins, the shot having to be taken. . . . all fouls in the final three minutes will become two-shot fouls. . . . just another case of the offense getting too far ahead of the defense and corrective measures being instituted. . . . also to prevent flagrant fouling and stalling tactics in the latter portion of the game. . . .

BEEF DEPARTMENT: Doug Anderson is the latest Cougar to express disappointment at the Montreal training camp routine. . . . "Never would have reported back there if I'd known what it was going to be like this year," he said. . . . Doug and Colin Kilburn played on the Edmonton football team which lost to Winnipeg in the Western finals. . . . Kilburn was the manager. . . .

Just lookin' around: Hammerin' Dick Greco of baseball prowess was in town last week. . . . remember that fellow who tore down the kids' boxa equipment. . . . well, we hear he's buildin' it again, though we'd like confirmation from the fellow himself. . . . Credit where due, is a time-tested motto. . . .

Ian Macintosh is setting better than a goal-a-game pace for the Canucks. . . . and how about Busher Jackson's predicament. . . . A guy just can't build a ball team if he doesn't get the material. . . .

Milligan Injured, To Miss North Shore Tilt

Powerhouse Wallace Milligan, coach and centre forward of Victoria United, will be forced to sit-out on the sidelines due to an injury when the Victorians seek to increase their league leadership in a coast coast league with North Shore at Royal Athletic Park Saturday.

CARTER-SALAS TITLE FIGHT

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Jimmy Carter, lightning-fisted New York Negro, hopes to duplicate the achievement of another lightweight of a dozen years ago and recapture the 135-pound crown from Lauro Salas tonight.

Carter, a 2-to-1 favorite, will try to emulate Lou Ambers, who lost the title to Henry Armstrong in 1938 and won it back the next year. No other lightweight has ever done it.

Edmonton Flyers, who aren't reaping many of the Western Hockey League's early crop of points, were plowed under again Tuesday night by Calgary Stampede.

Stamps sprinted to a 4-1 win over Flyers—their second victory over the Edmonton team in as many nights—in a close-checking match before 3,568 customers at Calgary.

On the coast, New Westminster Royals depended on their veterans and the stand-pat club took a 5-3 decision over Vancouver Canucks in a penalty-light game.

In rebounding from the 9-1 drubbing Seattle Bombers handed them during the week-end, Royals at one time held a 4-0 lead, although Canucks made a strong finish.

Stampeders moved into a 1-0 lead in the first period and the clubs battled through a scoreless middle session. Calgary found the range in the final frame to outscore Flyers 3-1.

Kelly Gets Pair Roy Kelly paced Stampede with two goals while Steve Black and Sid Finney added singles. Jack McDonald spoiled Phil Hughes' bid for a shutout with a goal early in the final period.

At Vancouver, New Westminster Bombers were evenly divided among Ollie Dorohov, Gordon Fashaway, Don Slater, Stan Maxwell and Blinky Boyce, all of whom played with Royals last year.

Aldo Guidolin and Ian Macintosh, both newcomers to Canucks, scored the Vancouver goals. The assist on both went to Hugh Currie.

Coast-versus-prairie competition makes its debut tonight at Saskatoon. Quakers will host Seattle Bombers while the remainder of the teams take a rest.

FORMS AVAILABLE Basketball managers are advised that registration and mutual aid forms are now available. They can be picked up from Johnny Craig at 1420 Douglas or at Thursday night's executive meeting at St. Louis College.

FLUSH ROYAL CAPTURES CESAREWITCH STAKES

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 15 (Reuters)—Flush Royal, a seven-year-old carrying 125 pounds, won the two-and-a-quarter-mile Cesarewitch Stakes over this historic course today.

French Design was second and Queen Vashti third. There were 36 runners for the race, one of the features of the end of the English flat racing season.

WEDNESDAY QUARTERBACK

Phil Reflects 'Peg's Glory

It seems just like the other day that we sat in the jammed silent stands of Winnipeg's Osborne Stadium watching the once great Blue Bombers being slaughtered by Saskatchewan Roughriders 47-0.

In contrast, four years later Bombers, with still a week to go in the Western Conference schedule, has copped the conference title by resoundingly beating the self-same Roughriders 28-7 Saturday and 37-1 Monday. It is good to think about for an ex-Pegger.

At that, however, the Bomber league victory wasn't a walk away by any stretch of the imagination.

But for a dynamic Calgary team taking Saturday night's (did you hear that one from Vancouver) game from Edmonton Eskimos in a rip-snortin'

HAWKS TIE WINGS

While it lasts, every game in Chicago Black Hawks' unbeaten string brings its own satisfaction to a few men on the Chicago roster.

Hand-Me-Downs Still Unbeaten

The Hawks, a motley collection of characters whose black uniforms hide the coal dust accumulated during years of residence in the National Hockey League cellar, currently enjoy a three-point bulge over their nearest rivals at the top of the league standings.

Everything went according to the script Tuesday night. The visitors to Chicago were Detroit Red Wings, league champions, Stanley Cup holders and previous owners of half a dozen men in the Hawk line-up.

The resulting 1-1 tie didn't quite fulfil the hopes of the vengeful half-dozen, but there was an element of poetic justice in the way it happened.

The champions took a 1-0 lead in the first period when Metro Prystai finished off a passing play with Marcel Pronovost and Gordie Howe. Prystai, who graduated from the Hawks to the better life of a first-division club a few years back, was aided by the fact that Lee Fogolin, who used to draw his pay in Detroit, was serving a penalty at the time.

The dauntless Hawks, who haven't beaten the Wings in front of their home-town customers in nearly two years, kept the pressure on Terry Sawchuk in the Detroit nets and were finally rewarded with the tying goal at 2:38 in the final period.

The marksman was Gerry Couture, who had a stint with the Red Wings before coming to Chicago by way of Montreal.

Grid Playoff Dates Changed

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 15 (UPI)—The opening game of the Western Conference semi-final between the Edmonton Eskimos and the Calgary Stampede will be played here Oct. 22, instead of Oct. 25, to give the series winner more time to rest up for the final against the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, it was reported today.

Ralph Misner of Winnipeg, president of the Western Inter-provincial Football Union, was said to have agreed to a change in dates for both games. The second was rescheduled for Oct. 25.

Girl Guides Schedule Swim Gala Saturday

Close to 200 Girl Guides of nature and diving competitions. Greater Victoria will shrug into bathing suits next Friday night to view for laurels in a swimming gala at the Crystal Garden. Program starts at 7:15.

This is a revival of the former annual swimming festival. It has not been held during the past three years.

Mrs. Clarence Wallace, wife of Lieutenant-Governor Wallace, will present prizes and trophies to winners.

The program will include swimming events of a varied nature and diving competitions. Y.M.C.A.'s well-known swimming coach Archie McKinnon and former diving star Arthur Stott of the Victoria Times will act in official capacities at the meet. Stott to announce events and competitors.

Bill Clark of McGill and Orme will judge the diving events. Polished water performers, the Y.M.C.A. "Aquanymps", will color the show with some of their attractive water manoeuvres. There will be comedy acts by Sea Rangers and Guides.

Bob Whyte . . . Basketball's 'Grand Old Man'

BOB WHYTE—FOR 50 YEARS A CREDIT TO THE GAME

Basketball Owes Him a Big Debt

By ROY THORSEN

They are going to unfurl the banners in Saanich this week to pay tribute to the man who richly deserves the title of "Grand Old Man of Basketball" in this sector.

In the spotlight will be Victoria-born Bob Whyte, of Scottish descent, now reaching for his 63rd year, and who, in the last 30 years, has been the main figure in fostering the game of basketball in this neck of the woods. Bob also played soccer in his more youthful days.

Bob is a life member of the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League, and for his many years of faithful service to that circuit, will be honored at "Bob Whyte Night" as the league starts rolling on the new season at the Brentwood Hall Friday night starting at 7.30.

A special presentation will be made to Whyte, a salute from players and fans alike.

All players who have been in the league over the past years are asked to make a special point to attend and share in the tribute to a popular basketball hero. Two Brentwood players will also receive presentations.

Just for the record it should be noted that Bob's full name is Robert Sinclair Randall Whyte.

He was born on Randall St. in Victoria but is not related to the man for whom the street was named.

"Getting a bit old now, so I have to bow out to let younger bloods carry on the work of guiding youth in the game," said the pleasant, easy-going, white-haired Bob.

He is the brother of Ed Whyte, assistant secretary to the Victoria Liberal Association, also a veteran in the sports picture. Ed retired in 1946 after 50 years in softball and other sports here. He is a life member of the British Columbia Softball Association.

Games scheduled on "Bob Whyte Night" in Brentwood Hall, Friday, starting at 7.30, follow:

Biddy Boys (pee wee), Brentwood vs. Saanich; midget girls, Brentwood vs. Sooke; hantam boys (junior), Brentwood vs. Sooke; juvenile girls (int. B), Brentwood vs. Saanich.

Saturday games at Saanich: Biddy Girls (pee wee), Saanich vs. Brentwood; midget boys, Saanich vs. Brentwood; hantam girls (junior), Saanich vs. Brentwood; juvenile boys (int. B), Saanich vs. McMorrans.

Bob was only 13 years old when he started action on the maplewood floors—with the

James Bay Presbyterian Church "Boys' Brigade."

In 1908 he was a member of the "Y" team which won the Northwest "Y" championship—Vancouver, Bellingham, Everett, Seattle, Hoquiam and Portland being in the circuit.

In 1916 he was with the "Y" senior Huskies. Others on the team were Tommy Nute (Times' press foreman of today), Tommy Peden, Johnny Peden and Cyril Baker.

Normi Forbes, Gus McKinnon, Bill Hudson, Joe Streeter, Art Boyd, Dave Foubister and Ed Brekenridge were other players with him when this team—under the banner of the First Presbyterian Church—won the B.C. senior A men's title in 1924.

While still an active competitor, Bob started coaching girls' teams in 1921.

Among his first, the 1st Presbyterian team, were such well-known personalities of today as Bessie Forbes, social editor of the Victoria Times; Mrs. Arthur Hunkin, wife of retired school principal; Gus McKinnon's sister; the former Miss Dorothy Aird, now Mrs. Archie McKinnon; and Lilly Christie, now Mrs. W. H. Wilson.

Since that time Bob—unmarried—has been hard at the job of coaching and managing at least 25 girls' teams in this area—from junior to senior A.

And to his credit is that teams he piloted in the game have won city, Island and provincial championships. In his earlier years of coaching, Bob passed on his knowledge to high school hoop units.

He worked with Albion Stove Works for 43 years and latterly has been storeman at the Pacific Sheet Metal Works.

All sportsmen join in honoring the "father of basketball" in this area.

JACKSON ISSUES APPEAL

'Youth' Prime Need Of Senior Cage Club

Sten "Busher" Jackson, coach of the Victoria senior A men's basketball club, wants to have a look at more youngsters in building the 1952-53 edition of the team.

He noted today that "young fellows just haven't shown up—and I want youth, lots of it."

The coach wasn't sure whether there is a lack of interest in the younger ranks in senior A company—or whether good quality players in the lower brackets are being held out by other team managers.

However, there is a wide open invitation to all young players who have ambitions to join the team to show their stuff at a workout of senior A club tonight at 7.30, at the Victoria High School gym.

This is the first opportunity the club has had for a practice session on the high school floor. It will be the final practice before the team takes to the road Saturday to take on Nanaimo's entry in the Island senior A loop in the coal city that night.

HARRIS GETS TWO-YEAR PACT FROM SENATORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (UP).—Bucky Harris, whose shrewd trades enabled the Washington Senators to rise from seventh to fifth place in the American League this year, was rewarded today with a new two-year contract estimated to call for $40,000 a season.

The suave, 55-year-old Harris immediately conceded that more trades were in the wind in an effort to lift the Senators into the first division next season. "The turning point of the year for us was when we got Jackie Jensen from the Yankees and Jim Busby from the White Sox," Harris said. "So we contemplate some changes for 1953. I can't mention any names or positions because I don't know whether these trades will materialize."

SCHOOL GALA ENTRIES CLOSE

Entries must be sent to the Crystal Garden, care of the school galas' secretary.

Gala for elementary schools up to Grade VIII will be held Oct. 24 at 7.30 p.m. Junior and senior high schools' gala will be held Oct. 29 at 7.30 p.m.

ASK WINDSORS TO CORONATION BEAVER URGES

LONDON, Oct. 15 (Reuters).—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor should be invited to end their long "exile" from England by attending the coronation of the Queen next June, Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express said in an editorial.

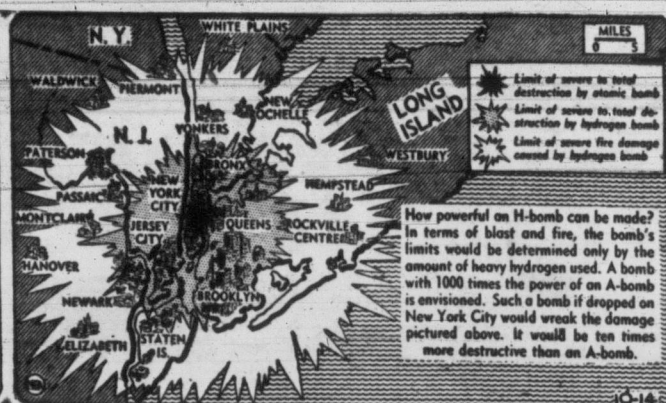

"The people would welcome their presence," the newspaper said. "And they would acclaim, too, the generous impulse of their new queen in inviting them."

The Sunday Express said that in the 16 years in which the Duke has lived abroad since his abdication he "has been scrupulous in his efforts not to embarrass either his brother or his niece."

So eminent a nuclear physicist as Dr. Harold G. Urey believes that on a scale of poisoning the atmosphere with radioactive atoms the H-bomb is virtually unlimited.

Map at left shows how radioactive clouds produced by specially rigged H-bombs could be carried across the U. S.

How powerful an H-bomb can be made? In terms of blast and fire, the bomb's limits would be determined only by the amount of heavy hydrogen used. A bomb with 1000 times the power of an A-bomb is envisioned. Such a bomb if dropped on New York City would wreck the damage pictured above. It would be ten times more destructive than an A-bomb.

British Critics Praise Chaplin's Latest Film

C.C.F. TO LAUNCH HEALTH PETITION

National Campaign in Effort to Have
Ottawa Institute Insurance Program

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP)—The C.C.F. soon will launch one of the largest signature-collecting campaigns ever undertaken in Canada.

The party plans to ask as many Canadians as can be reached to sign a petition urging the federal government to inaugurate a national health insurance program at the forthcoming session of parliament.

Plans for the petition were announced Sunday night by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, in a broadcast over the C.B.C.'s trans-Canada network. He spoke from Winnipeg in the C.B.C. series "The Nation's Business."

Lorne Ingle, national secretary of the C.C.F., said in an interview he expects to have the petition in its final form today. It will be circulated as soon as it is printed.

DOOR-TO-DOOR CANVASS

Provincial organizations of the C.C.F. will handle the petition in their own areas. The campaign may vary from province to province, but the general intention is to have a door-to-door canvass for signatures.

Mr. Ingle said no estimate has been made of the number of voters who are likely to sign the petition. Support is expected from persons and organizations who believe in national health insurance, but who do not support the C.C.F.

The next session of parliament opens November 20. Mr. Ingle said the party hopes to table its petition in the Commons early in the new year.

There will be no obligation on the government to act, no matter how many signatures are obtained. To comply with the rules of the Commons, the petition must be drafted in terse, legal language. It will "pray" the government to "consider" the need for a national health insurance program.

In his broadcast, Mr. Coldwell said the Liberal Party has been "promising" national health insurance since 1919. For 33 years there have been "procrastination and delays."

OUTLINES PROGRAM

The petition, he said, will call for a program to provide all citizens, irrespective of income, full hospital, medical, dental and optical care.

He added: "The petition will stress that while the finances for such a service must be provided on a national basis, its administration must be carried out through local health regions responsible to the health department."

Modern Problems B.C. Church Group's Conference Keynote

The convention of the B.C. Conference Young People's Union, which terminated in Chilliwack, Monday, was attended by 30 United Church delegates from Victoria.

"For the facing of this hour" was the theme of an address delivered by Dr. Vernon Fawcett, professor at Union College, Vancouver. The talk was discussed in joint session with 60 delegates from other parts of the province.

Returning Island delegates speak warmly of hospitality of the Chilliwack church members who opened their homes to the visitors.

Island delegates elected to the executive were: Barbara Haner, Oak Bay; Bonnie Evans and Norah Wolfe, both of Victoria.

ments of the various provincial governments.

"It will call for an extension of training facilities for professional personnel and an accelerated program of hospital construction. It will also suggest the financing of the scheme through a social security contribution, graduated according to ability to pay, and supplemented from the general revenue."

Victoria Men Mentioned for Labor Board

Likely nominees to fill the position on the Labor Relations Board vacated by George Wilkinson, whose resignation will be effective Oct. 22, include one Vancouver man and three Victorians.

They are T. C. Gooderham, T.L.C. organizer and vice-president of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council; W. T. McLaughlin, Department of Labor conciliation officer; Roy H. Wooten, secretary of Vancouver Island Municipal Employees' Association and Saanich councillor; and R. K. Gervin, Vancouver alderman and chairman of the T.L.C. provincial executive.

Meanwhile, government policy toward the board is still in doubt in the face of rumors that board members might be called when required and paid on a daily basis.

Leaky Tap Remains Mystery to Women Despite Curiosity

Women have longed to know how to fix a leaky faucet or replace an ironing cord.

But that seems to be as far as it goes, according to John S. White director of Greater Victoria School Board evening classes.

"We had so many inquiries from women interested in little home mechanics such as putting on a washer or fixing a garden tool that we offered a home mechanics' course," said Mr. White.

The proffered course failed for lack of registrations.

One was not quite enough.

Theatre Guild Makes Start on Full Season

With the English comedy, "The Children Hundreds," the Victoria Theatre Guild, this week, has embarked on a full season of plays for the season. Plays to be shown at the Langham Court Theatre, include a fantasy, mystery, drama and one popular old-time comedy.

Play directors will be almost entirely new to the guild's major series, though none are inexperienced. Two, whose work is well-known to guild audiences, are Audrey St. D. Johnson and Barbara Smythe.

Mrs. Johnson, who will direct the second production, scheduled to open November 29, will be handling her 14th major production in this city. Last season, she directed "The Heiress," which was the winner of the B.C. Regional of the Dominion Drama Festival.

This year she will present "The Madwoman of Chaillot," a brilliant, satiric comedy-fable of modern times. It will be the guild's Dominion Drama Festival entry for 1953.

The Victoria Theatre Guild Studio, a workshop for all ages, where the experienced and the inexperienced can read and produce plays and hear talks on various aspects of theatre, has also commenced its season's activities. Mrs. Helen Smith is in charge of this department.

An evening of studio plays will

HIGHWAY RIBBON DEVELOPMENT PUZZLE PASSED TO GAGLIARDI

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi, in a letter to Saanich Council Tuesday, gave no definite government policy with regard to rezoning properties facing Patricia Bay Highway.

The minister was asked by the council if the government wanted to have the highway maintained as a fast route to Patricia Bay airport and whether it objects to ribbon development on the highway.

The minister replied that he had no "positive answer." He added that he would first have to look into the legislation before giving a decision.

The letter was tabled by council.

be presented at the theatre in late December.

Barbara Smythe, who among her many productions, numbers "Rebecca," "Good-bye My Fancy" and "Born Yesterday," will present a modern comedy in March.

Love Triangle Revealed in Murder Hearing

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 15 (AP).—The state told a jury Wednesday of a man "hopelessly in love" with another woman and offered it as the motive in the bizarre killing of Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer.

George Edward Grammer, 35-year-old New York office manager, was put on trial charged with his wife's murder.

State's Attorney Anslem Sodaro identified the other woman as 28-year-old Mathilda Mizibrocky, a Canadian employed at United Nations headquarters in New York.

Mrs. Grammer, 33-year-old mother of three children, was found beaten to death in her car—a $3,000 gift from her husband—about Aug. 20. The case was first reported as a traffic accident. A murder charge was laid against Grammer less than two weeks later.

Miss Mizibrocky had not been officially identified until Sodaro made his opening statement. When she testified before the Baltimore City grand jury, she was listed as the "woman in the red hat." Her relatives live in Hamilton.

Sodaro said the state will show that Grammer and Miss Mizibrocky fell in love after a chance meeting last November in a New York bowling alley.

He said he will prove the couple stayed as man and wife at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago from last July 25 to Aug. 4.

He said Grammer's casual meeting with Miss Mizibrocky was followed by luncheon, cocktail and dinner dates.

In fact, Grammer was with Miss Mizibrocky so much it never occurred to her he could be married. He never revealed it. They talked of marriage. She was led to believe the only thing preventing it was their different religions.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

There is a message to hand from Dr. E. L. McNiven, announcing that a miracle has occurred.

This is with reference to Between Times of yesterday, which remarked "if the liquor inquiry committee is presented with one completely objective and unbiased brief during its sitting anywhere in B.C. you can chalk that up as a miracle."

Dr. McNiven tells me to go right ahead and chalk up a miracle, because his brief was objective and unbiased. He has no profit motive, and he is not a teetotaler.

I am glad to have heard from Dr. McNiven and his miracle.

Now, being a medical man, perhaps he will "rare back and commit another."

Tell me how to get rid of the blank-blank cold which has knocked me for a loop.

The other paper had a headline making a proposal which would meet with some favor among certain members of the citizenry:

"BRIEF PROPOSES FREE LIQUOR SALE"
Even the odd free sample would be very welcome.

It is probably the liquor inquiry committee's activities which inspire it, but a Vancouver school teacher has revived this oldie—and what's more, swears it really happened just last week.

An experiment with worms was performed before a very young class, to show the children the bad effect of alcohol on the system.

A worm was placed in a bottle of water, and a second worm in a bottle of alcohol.

The worm in the water frisked merrily about, but the worm in the alcohol became listless and died.

"Now," asked the teacher, "what do you learn from this experiment?"

A small boy jumped eagerly to his feet and cried "as long as you drink alcohol, you'll never have worms."

Which should take care of alcohol for today. Except that I hope the inquiry committee gets a chance to drop into a "pub" for a quiet beer around closing time of a Saturday night—and see just how it SHOULDN'T be done.

My favorite wife want to know why men make such a fuss over a little thing like a cold. She reminds me that women take their ailments, large and small, so much more gracefully.

This is undoubtedly so. And I believe it is because women suffer MORE, but men suffer more LOUDLY.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Ormond Griffen, 2221 Lydia Street, was found guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today on a charge of careless driving arising out of an August 29 automobile accident at the corner of Richmond and Fort Streets. He was fined $50.

The New Imperial Social Club will hold a Hard Times Dance in Newstead Hall, Fort Street, Saturday night at 8. Dancing will start at 9 with Jimmy Stewart and his band playing. A grand costume parade will be staged at 11, with prizes awarded.

A letter was received at the city clerk's office Tuesday from Textile Artcraft Co. of Montreal, suggesting consideration be given to purchase of flags for Queen Elizabeth's coronation.

Mayor Claude Harrison was told Tuesday he is "mayor of the most beautiful city" a fellow mayor has ever visited. The fellow mayor in this case is Walter Bryan of Carlsbad, New Mexico, who wrote Mayor Harrison inviting him to visit New Mexico.

One-half of the famous Woodwyn herd of Jersey cows sold for $7,000 at an auction held on the Saanich farm of Hon. W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward Tuesday afternoon. Buyers from the mainland and all parts of Vancouver Island attended the sale.

Spokesman for local building supply firms, C. C. Warren, explained today that it is not because of any local situation that his organization has asked municipalities in the area to license transient contractors.

Resolutions have been presented to councils in Victoria, Esquimalt and Oak Bay by the Victoria Retail Lumber and Shingle Co-operative Association.

The situation has arisen on the mainland where fly-by-night contractors have undertaken a contract and skipped out before the poor quality of the work could be discovered. The licensing move is intended as protection, he declared.

False Charge of Car Theft Brings Soldier to Court

Pleading guilty to a charge of public mischief, Rodney Wells, Gordon Head Camp, was remanded by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today until next Monday for sentence.

The accused involved city police and the R.C.M.P. in an extensive search for his car which Wells reported as stolen on Oct. 14. Wells later denied that the car was stolen after it had been found.

Sgt. William Andrews told the court that the accused told police

Little Saanich Observatory road will be closed after office hours due to the present fire hazard, it was announced today. It will be open every week day from 9 to 5, and on Saturdays only for the weekly public observation through the 73-inch reflector.

This closure will be in effect until the fire hazard is over.

Greater Victoria school board reminded the city Tuesday of a previous request to have a city sewer removed from the site of the proposed new Central Junior High School.

T. L. Christie, school board secretary, advised the city that plans and specifications are to be completed within a week by Wade and Stockill, architects.

On completion of plans and with approval of the department of education, the board will call for tenders, the secretary said in his letter.

Board of Transport Commissioners advised the city of Victoria Tuesday, it had given authorization to the C.P.R. to construct and maintain an extension to a private siding across Russell Street.

Personnel Bosses Hold Conferences In Empress Oct. 30

At least 300 executives and personnel managers of the Pacific Northwest Personnel Management Association will hold their 14th annual conference at the Empress Hotel, opening October 30.

Among Canadians to address the three-day gathering, held for the first time in Victoria, will be R. D. Perry, general manager of Consolidated Mining and Smelting, and P. D. (Pat) Conroy, labor attaché at the Canadian Embassy, Washington, D.C.

Special emphasis will be given to labor-management topics. Delegates will attend from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

Victoria members of the chapter claim that choice of this city as site of the conference points up Victoria's growing importance in the northwest industrial scene.

New County Court Judge Takes Office

Joseph B. Clearhue today quit the ranks of the bar and became a member of the judiciary. He was sworn in as judge of Victoria's County Court at a short ceremony held in the judges' library of the Victoria Court House shortly before 11. Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan of B.C.

Victorian at Manslaughter Trial Admits Installing Fatal Pipes

Pipefitter William Green, standing trial on a charge of manslaughter, today took the stand on his own behalf in Assize Court, and admitted in a quiet voice that he personally hooked up the gas pipes whose leak caused Mrs. Elizabeth Birch to be asphyxiated last July 16.

Green was charged as a result of the death. The deceased was a tenant in a rooming house maintained by Green at 750 Queens Avenue.

In the witness box this afternoon, the accused said he purchased a new stove for Mrs. Birch because she had had an accident with the old one. He said he took two days connecting the stove, but completed the installation on July 15.

He said he found pipe to connect the new stove with the old feeder pipe in a closet he had in his basement. He said he stored odd fittings and lengths of pipe there which he came across in his work, and felt could be used again.

In answer to a direct question from his defense counsel, George

Gregory, he said he never stored any pipe which he suspected of being defective.

PIPE TOO SMALL
Earlier in the proceedings, S. N. Darling, a plumber, testified that the half-inch pipe used for the installation was not large enough to feed all burners of the stove. He said three-quarter-inch pipe was required.

Darling said this observation led him to believe the person who made the installation did not know much about gas.

Green answered this from the stand, declaring there was a half-inch pipe attached to the stove when he bought it and that he knew for a fact Mrs. Birch never used more than two burners at a time, so realized a half-inch pipe would be adequate.

Green was the last witness to be called in the trial. Fourteen witnesses were called by Crown prosecutor Gordon Cameron Tuesday.

Defense counsel called only Darling, and P. O. Joseph T. Brown, who occupied the apartment directly above the one belonging to Mrs. Birch.

MOVING FURNITURE
Brown testified he heard Mrs. Birch moving around in her suite about 12:30 on the morning of July 16. He recalled he did not go to sleep directly because it sounded like Mrs. Birch was "moving furniture around" below.

The case was scheduled to go to the jury for decision late this afternoon.

Massey Puts Little Towns On Tour Map

Governor Will Fly To Meet the People

Canadians living in small communities are going to see a lot more of Governor-General Vincent Massey than they did any of his predecessors.

Lionel Massey, the governor-general's son and hard-working secretary, revealed today his father is planning a new policy for future trips which will enable him to see more of the people in small towns.

Starting next year, Governor-General Massey will fly to places for official functions, and instead of hurrying home again, will spend several days on the return journey, meeting the people.

"The governor-general always regrets that the people in small communities are usually left out of the official tours. He wants to get closer to these people, and has an earnest desire to meet them," explained his secretary.

This practice is difficult to institute on long official tours, such as the present one, the Governor-General's first official tour since his appointment. But it will always be the Governor-General's aim to include smaller centres on his itinerary.

By the end of this year the Governor-General will have traveled 20,000 miles by all modes of transportation. The present tour is 7,500 miles, and in December he will be in the Northwest Territories for the meeting of the governing council of that vast area. He completed a tour of the Maritimes this summer.

The Governor-General has recovered from a severe cold and throat infection which forced him to cancel his Calgary itinerary.

Members of the vice-regal party said doctors had to "speak quite severely" to the Governor-General to persuade him a rest in bed was imperative.

John Davis, 139 Simcoe Street, was fined $25 in R.C.M.P. police court at Colwood Tuesday for carrying a loaded firearm in his car. At the same time, Hartley Florence, Leechtown, was fined $25 for carrying a firearm without first obtaining a permit.

First Canadian-Born Governor-General Arrives in City

SIoux WASN'T LATE, OLD SALT INSISTS

Dignitaries Greet New Governor As Destroyer Docks Out of Dark

Provincial governor, premier, mayor of Victoria and a handful of enthusiastic citizens welcomed Governor-General Vincent Massey as a Canadian destroyer bore him to the farthest western city of Her Majesty's domain. His Excellency's arrival Tuesday night was carried out in traditional, punctual Royal Canadian Navy fashion.

At 9:26 p.m., the scheduled time of arrival, H.M.C.S. Sioux, under Cmdr. P. E. Haddon, nosed into the Inner Harbor.

Some landlubbers remarked the destroyer was late and should have been dockside at 9:26 p.m. but men of the H.M.C.S. Naden, berthing party, under Commissioned Boatswain Ray McIntyre of Halifax, were quick to point out Cmdr. Haddon was "dead on."

"He must stick the berthing party at the scheduled time of arrival and that's what he did," said a knowledgeable sailor. As the vessel edged up to the jetty, one Sioux rating with a powerful throwing arm, heaved a "line" so far that it struck Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace's shiny Cadillac, causing a bit of a stir.

Chauffeurs and aides—and even the lieutenant-governor—rushed over to inspect the damage, but there was none.

Governor-General Massey was met aboard ship by the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace.

After a few words of greetings, the diminutive, first Canadian-born governor-general stepped jauntily down the gangplank, hardly looking like a man recovered from a throat infection which had confined him to bed for a period.

INTRODUCTIONS
He was then introduced to Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett, Mayor Claude L. Harrison (wearing his beloved cape) and Mrs. Harrison, and Rear Ad-

Langford Crews Set To Fight New Blaze

Within Quarter Mile of Florence Lake Houses; Other Blazes Quiet

Langford firemen today were keeping a close watch on a fire at Florence Lake, burning within one-quarter mile of several homes, in the face of a rising wind.

Fire Chief Rod Bayles said the fire had been held on one side, but was slowly approaching the lake from another direction. He fully expected crews would be at work on the fire by late this afternoon.

He said a summer cottage had been burned near Fork Lake, near Munn Road north of Fizzle Lake, and that fire had now covered about 200 acres in that area.

"There are two or three people in there that have been fighting fire for a week," he said.

Firemen backfired two acres at Glen Lake Tuesday night, where other fires are burning, and Forest Service crews are working on the blaze today.

HIGHLANDS QUIET

Meanwhile, other slash fires in the Highlands district that have laid a huge pall of smoke over the whole lower end of Vancouver Island were reported quiet.

Most of the fires, according to B.C. Forest Service officials, are in slash up to five years old.

"We would rather see them burning now than next July," one official said.

The Forest Service stated that no property was in danger now and that no valuable timber was threatened. Falling barometer readings indicate better weather for controlling fires, they said.

View Royal Group Seeks Nomination

Nominations for vice-president and two directors of the View Royal Community Association will be accepted from the floor of the meeting October 20 in the Community Hall at 8 p.m.

Secretary-treasurer W. E. Porter, in his notice of meeting, stresses that the best possible representation be built up, since the unorganized area must make its own contacts with government.

An interesting program of films is scheduled for next Monday.

Red Feather Clean-Up Response Said Good

Special Canvassers Continue Work Toward $195,000 Objective; Over 70% Collected

Money is still flowing into Red Feather campaign of offices toward the objective of $195,000, campaign officials said today. Over 70 per cent has been collected.

A special team of 45 canvassers who have pledged themselves to stay with the job until the quota is reached is meeting with excellent response, according to co-chairmen Ralph B. Mathews and John A. Craig.

Several districts have already well exceeded their quotas, according to Red Feather Headquarters.

One of the most gratifying letters of the campaign was received from the Saanich Chamber of Commerce, which conducted the drive in Central Saanich that resulted in a collection of well over 100 per cent.

"We were pleased at having the opportunity to make the collection," chamber officials wrote.

Other districts that have exceeded their quota are Metchesin, Malahat, Sidney and Langford.

Mr. Mathews said today the canvassers will be conducted mainly in the city, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt.

"We will tell people that they are giving for a whole year," he said. "If anyone has given a token payment, we would like to see them reconsider. We are confident, though, that we will reach our objective."

Former City Comptroller Reviews Work

Duties and responsibilities of a municipal comptroller were outlined to the local chapter of the National Office Management Association, Tuesday, at the Pacific Club, by Henry Watson, former city comptroller.

Mr. Watson drew on his experiences to clarify the intricacies of the all-important post.

The comptroller is responsible for many of the tasks handled by the city clerk of smaller municipal organizations, but the scope of his work in Victoria includes the handling of sums which this year reached over $8,000,000 and requires a separate office to be instituted, he said.

The comptroller-treasurer prepares the budget under the municipal manager, who is co-ordinator of all the city activities.

Other duties of the comptroller include collection of all accounts due the city, custody of funds and securities, making and accounting for all disbursements with an eye to the budget, preparing statements of revenue and expenditure and making comparisons with the estimates.

He must attend all council meetings and be ready to offer advice and watch that statutory provisions are followed in each matter.

High praise for the municipal departments of the city was emphasized by Mr. Watson throughout the talk.

OCTOBER HAS DRIEST SPELL ON RECORD

October of 1952 will go down in the weather books as having the longest dry spell since the compilation of accurate records.

Today is the city's 18 consecutive day without rain. There has been none in October, according to weatherman William Mackie.

Victoria also experienced its first frost of the season early today, with reports of small patches coming from several low-lying districts.

Temperatures will continue in the 48-60-degree range, says the weatherman, and winds will be southwest at 15 miles per hour.

Ladysmith Man Brutally Beaten In Street Fight

Was Defending Injured Brother

His face swollen and gashed, allegedly by three men on Saturday night, a Ladysmith man is in Nanaimo hospital today slowly recovering from a brutal beating, R.C.M.P. reported today.

He is Ronald Hearl, who was attacked behind the Queen's Hotel at Nanaimo.

R.C.M.P. said three suspects, Park Southwick, Port Alberni; Joe Merlo and John Patterson, were charged today in Nanaimo with assault and actual bodily harm. The men were remanded until next Thursday for trial.

Police said Hearl was admitted into the hospital in an unconscious condition after being attacked by three men. His jaw was broken in two places, several teeth were knocked out and his face was bruised and cut beyond recognition, they said.

Hearl became involved in a fight with three men when they allegedly attacked his disabled brother. The brother had just left hospital after having 10 ribs removed.

Police said the men had been drinking.

The fight first started in the tavern, according to witnesses. One of the three men attempted to choke Hearl's brother. He got away, however, and the three men went outside.

Police said when they arrived on the scene they found Hearl laying in a pool of blood.

Elderly Saanich Man Found Dead

ASK The TIMES

Q.—How, where and why did the saying O.K. start.—J. A. P.
A.—O.K. was first used by early American settlers, adapted probably from the Choctaw Indian word "oke" or "hoke," meaning "Yes, it is." Authorities classify the expression as colloquial except where used to endorse documents, bills, etc.

Q.—Is it possible to tell how far away a thunderstorm is?—A. E. N.

A.—Yes. Count off the seconds after seeing the flash of lightning. The noise of thunder usually travels one mile in five seconds.

Q.—Why is a spider's web called a cobweb?—R. A.
A.—Cob is a corruption of the Middle English word "coppe," meaning spider.

Claire Wallace Takes Spotlight in Column

By PENNY SAVER

Today, for a change, I'm going to tell you about a charming visitor who was in the city yesterday. She was Claire Wallace, that popular personality we hear on the radio.

Mrs. Wallace, as you will discover, is keenly interested in gadgets for convenience. If she can't buy it, you will find that she invents the needed article.

Three years ago, on a visit to Australia, she fractured her hip so badly that a series of operations were required. "Crutches," Mrs. Wallace says, "were not too bad except that they inhibit a gal from carrying the indispensable hold-all, she calls a handbag!"

"What on earth men do, I can't imagine," she comments. But she knew there must be an answer and she found one. It will fit the needs of both sexes, too.

Mrs. Wallace calls it a crutch bag. "It is patented now and will soon be on the market," she says. "It conforms to the shape of the crutch, fastening just below the hand-piece and will carry a book and the other variety of articles one usually transports with free hands."

"I worked it out first in cotton, pinning and shaping it. Later in old drapery material and plastic."

When she had fashioned it to her own satisfaction, she received assistance in having one made of leather. One or two finished samples have been put into use in England and the United States, and are apparently giving great satisfaction.

Mrs. Wallace, who has only just dispensed with her crutches, is on a cross-country story-gathering trip for her sponsors, a prominent British Columbia salmon canning firm.

Her 24 hours in Victoria were crowded with visitors, telephone calls, broadcasts, and a luncheon reception that featured canned salmon dishes.

"Since my accident," Mrs. Wallace reports, "I have transcribed my shows right in my own home." Many broadcasts were done directly from her bed during the long illness.

"In Australia," she tells you, "I was given every facility. In one broadcast we did from the hospital. I had young Canadian wives on the program. We cabled their parents and some of them heard their daughters' voices for the first time in years."

The words were hardly out of her mouth, when one of those Canadian wives walked into the hotel room. Mrs. Mary Waters, home for a visit with her mother, Mrs. John Kendrick, had dropped in to renew acquaintance.

Mrs. Wallace asks, confiding her passion for every sort of bird and beast, "Have you heard my bird?"

The bird is a talking mynah from India. It appears on her program as the latest creature in a long succession which had included a brown bear which snuggled up to her and sang "Sweet Adeline" and a famous silver kitten named Pussywillow.

"I've also had a six-foot snake that wound itself round my neck, a deer and Gene Autry's horse," she says happily.

Meeting such a variety of "people," you can well imagine that Mrs. Wallace is a distinct personality herself, whose vivid ideas and energy might very well lead us to other "penny saving" ideas, such as her crutch bag.

AS WE LIVE

Now Is the Time to Stop Hubby's Open House Policy

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Entertaining friends is one of the pleasures of life. But, like all pleasures, it can be carried to excess. This wife should put a stop to her husband's open-house policy at once.

(Q) "What would you do with a husband who comes home three or four times a month, just before it's time to eat, and says: 'So and so is dining with us tonight?' I have three small children, one only six months old, who need a lot of attention at supper time. You will probably say the people themselves should have enough sense to refuse. They usually do, but he insists that they come anyway. Who with an average income this day and age can afford such goings on? My husband won't give a hand and I've sometimes washed dishes as late as 10 p.m. My husband never asks if we have enough food or if I feel well enough to entertain."

(A) Your husband's way of handling the family entertaining is certainly most inconsiderate. Impress this on him if you want to stop it.

First, stress that you are busy at dinnertime with the children. Tell him that if you knew ahead of time about the guests, you could arrange the children's supper so the work wouldn't pile up on you at one time.

Then, point out to him that the food you prepare for a family meal is not always appropriate or enough for guests. Tell him you are sure he wants his guests to feel they are welcome. They won't, however, if they realize you are embarrassed by the quality or quantity of food you offer them.

Stress that entertaining is expensive and hard on the family budget. He must realize this when he sees the food bills rising. It is certainly not fair to growing children to deprive them of food they need for the sake of guests.

Finally, ask him to consult you ahead of time when he is bringing guests home. It may be important to him in business to bring home a guest occasionally on the spur of the moment, but he can always telephone and give you some warning. Just dropping in with a guest is selfish.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Apply Cream During Day To Avoid Greasy Bedtime

It's a terrific problem—taking care of a dry complexion and yet looking pretty when you go to sleep at night—that is, if you are married. Many readers ask me what to do about this.

There used to be a theory that cold cream does all it can for a woman in 15 minutes' time. I never did believe this. Although it is not a flattering analogy, let us compare a very dry skin to a leather boot. That is what it will be like unless you take care of it. You don't rub oil on a leather boot and then take it off. You let it soak in.

There are several answers to the dry-complexion—though—married question. The simplest solution is helpful to the woman who does not work outside of her home. During the day she usually has an opportunity to apply lubricating cream to her face and neck and leave it on for a couple of hours. She can go ahead with her housework or sewing or cooking or resting just as well, all creamed up.

The solution for the married woman who has a job away from home is more difficult. Do not give up daily lubrication just because you cannot leave it on for a long time. Cleanse your face and apply an oily cream while you rest in your bath. The heat and steam from the bath will speed absorption. Also use a daytime oily makeup base.

These are a great protection and practically every well-known cosmetic house has one. There is also a cream emulsion which is wonderful for applying underneath the eyes where those little lines are so apt to appear. This disappears into the skin and can be used under your regular makeup.

There are also some oils and a cream night stick which almost disappear into the skin. You wipe the excess off. Of course your problem is easy if your husband goes to sleep before you do. If you read after he is dreaming, you can always reach for the cream in the bedside table drawer and put it on just before you nod.

There is no doubt about it! Men are repulsed by a greasy job and curlers and the women with dry complexions must take some measures if they are not to look like their grandmother some years hence.

Perhaps you have been out in the sun a lot this summer and would like to recondition at home. If so, I have a leaflet by that name which gives you lots of suggestions about masks and bleaching and other home treatments. If you would like to have it, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 49 "Reconditioning at Home" to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Brush and Massage Scalp Whether Hair Oily or Dry."

Because lettuce wilts so easily, it's not a good idea to put it in a sandwich that you are packing for a school lunch. You can get crispness in the filling by using finely shredded or chopped cabbage. Turn, ready-chopped ripe olives and the cabbage combined with enough mayonnaise to hold it together, make a very tasty filling.

Plan to Bewitch Your Youngsters With a Halloween Popcorn Party

If your youngsters have been haunting you for a Halloween party, you'll find pop corn the perfect treat to make the party extra fun. Every youngster likes pop corn and there are so many delightful, clever tricks you can do with this universally liked treat.

The youngsters will have a jolly time with freshly-popped, hot buttered pop corn. You can make this plain treat really intriguing for them by serving pop corn in individual paper Jack O'Lanterns from the "5" and "10," lined with wax paper. Every youngster will then have a Jack O'Lantern of his own to take home.

Several pop corn confections can be made hours before the party begins. For example, delicious pop corn balls can be made into grinning Halloween faces by using orange and black gum drops or jelly beans for the eyes, nose and mouth. Pop corn bars, a real favorite of the kiddies, can be made extra delicious and eye-appealing by decorating with colored candy. To climax the party, serve a novel pop corn cake with glasses of cold milk or sweet cider. The cake can be appropriately decorated with candy or nuts.

Of course, the success and economy of the party depends on the pop corn you use. There is nothing so disappointing as pop corn that only half pops. Be sure you get pop corn that is fresh... packed in airtight cans.

Here are the tested recipes to use for the pop corn treats suggested above:

POP CORN BARS

One cup sugar, 1/2 cup white corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 1/4 cup butter, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. vanilla, 3 quarts popped corn.

Put sugar, corn syrup, water, butter and salt in a saucepan and cook, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring (270° F.) until syrup forms a brittle ball in cold water. Add vanilla and stir only enough to mix it through the hot syrup. Place the popped corn in a bowl large enough for mixing. Pour the cooked syrup slowly over the popped corn and mix well. Wet the hands slightly and transfer mixture to a flat cake pan. Press mixture into a sheet cake and cut into bars with wetted knife. These can be made extra delicious and eye-appealing by decorating with colored candy.

POP CORN BALLS

One cup sugar, 1/2 cup white corn syrup, 1/2 cup water, 1/4 cup butter, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. vanilla, 3 quarts popped corn.

Put sugar, corn syrup, water, butter and salt in a saucepan and cook, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring (270° F.) until syrup forms a brittle ball in cold water. Add vanilla and stir only enough to mix it through the hot syrup. Place the popped corn in a bowl large enough for mixing. Pour the cooked syrup slowly over the popped corn and mix well. Wet the hands slightly and shape corn into balls, using only enough pressure to make the balls stick together. (This recipe will make 12 medium-size balls.) These pop corn balls can be made into grinning Halloween faces by using orange and black gum drops or jelly beans for the eyes, nose and mouth.

POP CORN CAKE

One large, well-greased angel food pan, four quarts popped corn (buttered).

Syrup: 1 cup white granulated sugar, 1/2 cup light syrup, 1/2 cup water, bring to thread state (boil), color if desired.

Pour syrup over popped corn.

Canada's Top Salesman Gives London a Miss To Search for New Markets in Latin-America

BY BRIAN O'LEARY
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—Trade Minister C. D. Howe will not attend the London Commonwealth talks in November as previously announced, it was learned here today.

Instead, Mr. Howe will head a strong delegation of Canadian industrialists and business men on a trip to Latin-America early in 1953 to drum up Canadian trade south of the Rio Grande.

No reason was given for the shift in plans for the Trade Minister.

Several weeks ago, it was announced in Ottawa that Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent would take both Finance Minister D. C. Abbott and Mr. Howe to the London talks in November.

HINT OF POLICY

Among the top civil servants going to London will be J. J. Deutsch, director of the Finance Department's International Economic Relations Division.

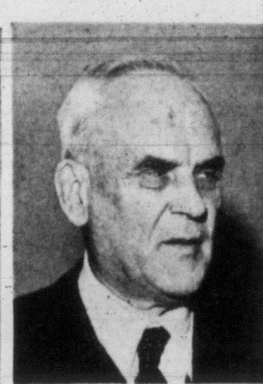

This gave rise to speculation here that Canada's delegation to the London talks would put heavy emphasis on the currency aspects of the Commonwealth's troubles, putting Commonwealth trade in second place.

The Latin-American trip Mr. Howe plans to take in early 1953 is said to be part of the government's plans to try to shift Canada's external trade from heavy dependence on the United States market.

Fears have been expressed repeatedly, both in the House of Commons and outside it, that Canada's trade was too dependent on the American economy.

EMBARGO'S EFFECT

A good example of how the U.S. can throw Canada's external trade off balance is the embargo the American government placed on all Canadian livestock after the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan, trade experts here noted.

Mr. Howe's planned trip south comes at a time when Canada's trade with Latin-America is climbing steadily. In 1950, Canada sold about $143,000,000 worth of goods to South American customers, last year $208,000,000.

Main snag in Canadian-Latin-American trade which Mr. Howe will have to iron out is exchange difficulties. Because of this, several Latin-American countries have in recent years imposed import and exchange restrictions which have adversely affected sale of Canadian products.

This is particularly true of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, the Big Three of South America. Other Latin-American republics, however, such as Mexico, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Peru and Venezuela are virtually free of import and exchange restrictions and thus offer open markets to Canadian goods, subject only to existing tariffs and customs charges.

DO YOU RECOGNIZE THIS MAN? —VICTIM OF DUODENAL ULCER

LONDON, Oct. 15 (BUP).—Do you recognize this man? Sir Henric Ogilvie, a Guy's Hospital surgeon, in London said today that is a word picture of a typical victim of duodenal ulcer.

Crack Down on Watershed Trespassers

Greater Victoria water board's ests of public safety," he said. The board does not wish to be "cracking down" on trespassers on watershed property, Commissioner I. D. Lachlan said today. ## Only Esquimalt Lags In Evening Studying

But School Board's Night Classes Draw 1,200 to Diversified Lecture Series

Evening classes operated under Greater Victoria School Board are now in full swing with late entries coming in daily to push total initial enrollment over the 1,200 mark, John S. White, director, said today.

A new school in Esquimalt was opened for the first time to offer night school facilities to residents of that district but had to be closed for lack of sufficient registration, according to Mr. White. "We were disappointed at the Esquimalt reception but interest is high generally in most of the courses offered," he said.

People from Esquimalt may enroll in similar courses at S. J. Willis Junior High, Victoria High or old Oak Bay High.

"Courses taxed to the limit are 'Build Your Own Home,' 'English for New Canadians,' 'Navigation for Fishermen and Yachtsmen,' and machine shop," said Mr. White.

Openings are still available in several leisure-time enjoyment courses.

More than 225 apprentices have been assigned to classes in the apprentice trade training courses. These are offered free to indentured apprentices as all costs are borne by the Department of Labor, Ottawa.

"The vocational and trade extension courses are well attended," according to Mr. White. "This is most encouraging as it indicates that the school program is meeting the needs of the community."

Courses include: Naval architecture, oil burner service, blueprint reading and construction drawing, steam engineering, bookkeeping, typewriting and shorthand.

Two new "feature" courses Natural Shorthand and Your House to Live In.

The Thomas shorthand system is designed for those who have difficulty in memorizing characters. It is described as a "simple shorthand system which eliminates confusing rules."

The many problems of creating an artistic home "rather than just a house" will be discussed by John A. Di Castri, architect, in a series of 20 illustrated lectures.

The council's action followed receipt of a letter urging the municipality to support the regional town planning board set up. The cost of maintaining the board was to be shared between the provincial government, Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt. Saanich share would have been $2,700 of a $20,000 total. Because the brushes rotate in opposite directions they counter balance each other... eliminating the tendency to "run away" common to other machines.

Light to carry

Weighing only 16 lbs., it is light enough to carry from room to room—yet heavy enough to do a lovely job.

Snap-on brushes and buffing pad

Polishing brushes have finger-pull attachments for easy removal... lamb's wool buffing pads that snap on brushes give that extra high-gloss finish.

Gets in corners

As the brushes rotate they flare out making it possible to polish deep into corners, close to baseboard, furniture and rugs.

The back-breaking job of polishing linoleum, hardwood and tile floors with a clumsy, weighted brush is a thing of the past. Now, a G-E Floor Polisher does all the work. You just guide it and, presto, you have gleaming floors. Two counter-rotating brushes, driven at 600 revolutions per minute do a thorough polishing job right up to baseboards, deep into corners and close to furniture. Modernization of Victoria's garbage disposal system during 1953 was advocated Tuesday by Mayor Claude Harrison.

"We ought to attend to this problem at once," he said. "Our whole garbage system is poor."

"We could have a less costly and more efficient system," said the mayor who viewed the sewerage and garbage disposal plants at Vernon, while attending the U.B.C.M. convention last week.

GOLF MEET FOR VICTORIA

SEATTLE, Oct. 15 (AP).—The Pacific Northwest Golf Association has selected Portland's Columbia-Edgewater course as the site of the 1953 P.N.G.A. tournament, with the women's tourney to be held at nearby Riverside.

The 1954 meet was awarded to Victoria. The Royal Colwood, Oak Bay and Uplands clubs have entered bids to be named the host course.

He believed that Ald. Robert Macmillan would have some interesting points to make to council, on completion of his current study of garbage disposal problems.

"Victoria would be wise to investigate the sewerage and garbage disposal systems of Vernon," said Mayor Harrison. "They are excellent."

The garbage system in the interior town, while still in the experimental stages may be self supporting, the mayor said.

A scheme of turning garbage into what he claims is a rich, odorless, organic fertilizer has been devised by C. Hopkinson at Vernon.

WANTED!—The F.B.I. has announced that John Joseph Brennan (above) has been placed on the list of the nation's "10 most wanted criminals." Brennan, who boasted that he will "never be taken alive," is sought for armed robbery of federally insured bank at Lyons, Ill., last August 1.

V.O.N. Chief Will Outline Nursing Plan

Col. Wilfred Bovey, governor of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada and president of the Reddy Memorial Hospital, Montreal, will be in Victoria next week to outline a home-nursing scheme being tried in the largest Canadian city.

The Montreal scheme is patterned after a system used in New York for some time. To relieve overcrowding in hospitals and to reduce cost of caring for the sick, medical teams have been organized to provide treatment to sick persons in their homes.

The teams operate out of hospitals and each is headed by a doctor. Specialists can be called in when the doctors think such is in the patient's interest.

Col. Bovey will tell of the success of the Montreal "pilot project" in a talk to the medical-social division of the Community Welfare Council Monday, October 20 at 8 p.m. in Spencerhouse.

Dr. J. Murray Anderson, medical superintendent of Royal Jubilee Hospital, will be chairman of the meeting.

Third Appeal Judge Upholds Poje's Conviction

Mr. Justice Sidney Smith, of B.C. Court of Appeal, has declined to state whether he considers the contempt of court proceedings initiated against Tony Poje and 14 other I.W.A. members was civil or criminal in nature.

In his reasons for upholding the conviction of Poje and the others, however, he strongly indicates he views them as being in a criminal classification.

This is significant since both Mr. Justice F. I. Bird, who agreed that the conviction should stand, and Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran, who dissented, both declared the contempt involved was of a civil nature.

The question of whether the contempt was civil or criminal was raised at the outset when counsel for the I.W.A. appealed conviction. Under Canadian law there is no right to appeal conviction on a charge of criminal contempt, only civil contempt.

NO RULING

Mr. Justice Smith, whose reasons for judgment were made known Monday, declared of the issue:

"I think it unnecessary to pronounce on the point, and prefer not to do so. Decision of this involves aspects of the question whether the contempt proceedings were civil or criminal and this is a point of obscurity and difficulty."

He later referred to the vital issue as "a riddle." He acknowledged, however, that if he were to bring down a judgment in the case he would have to "assume" the right of the appeal.

"There can be no doubt whatever," he went on, "that breach of an injunction is a contempt of court of some kind, and it seems to me there is a contradiction in saying that it is nothing but a civil wrong, thought it is that, too."

"The injunction is one of the court's mightiest weapons, and there must be few cases in which a court does not suffer if it allows this weapon to be ignored."

"There can be disobedience and disobedience. The circumstances can make all the difference. For centuries back distinction has been drawn between negligent or accidental contempts and contumacious contempts, though few of the reports deal with injunction cases. Disobedience can easily take forms that are covert or even an open challenge to the courts. This present case is, in the view I take, a case of that kind. Are we to be told that after a party has defied a court, the court can still do nothing because the other party is willing to swallow the contempt? Nothing short of the clearest authority would convince me that that is the law, and there is no such authority, and no such law."

DIRECT CHALLENGE

"The way the injunction was received was a direct challenge to the court's powers," he said.

Further upholding the right of Chief Justice Wendell Farris to press the contempt charge on his own behalf, Mr. Justice Smith declared: "Had he done nothing, the public might easily have inferred that the union had shown itself too much for the court."

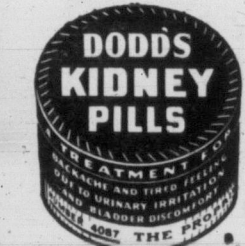

Poje, who was cited by Chief Justice Farris as being the ringleader of the contempt is now in Oakalla, serving a three-month term. I.W.A. counsel in Ottawa, however, are endeavoring to free him from prison until his case can be further appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada.

SIMONSTOWN, South Africa (CP).—While dismissing a charge of drunken driving, the magistrate here said "I do not think epileptics should be allowed to drive cars." He accepted evidence that the accused was not drunk, but was recovering from an epileptic fit when he got into the car.

Plans for Recreation Room at Victoria College

The unfinished basement of Victoria College Ewing Building may soon be transformed into a ballroom or recreation room for student activities.

gating ways the space could best be utilized. They will seek faculty approval when the plans are completed.
With a $600 trust fund as a representative at a recent Alma Mater Society meeting, is expected to add over $1,000 to the construction fund. This plan would call for each of 292 students to sell at least three subscriptions or renewals to Canadian or American magazines. On Canadian magazines the college would receive 50 per cent profit and on American magazines 30 per cent.

For greater efficiency the student council has taken over finances of all clubs, including the Tower, Martlet and Player's Club. Jim Cowie, Player's Club business manager, and George Price, Martlet business manager, will serve as liaison officers between their clubs and treasurer Conway. Tower representative has yet to be appointed.

(Victoria Talent On Review)

Mrs. Elizabeth Willis is good & mad at me, because I promised to "do a column" for the L.O.F. (Independent Order of Foresters) & I have never done it. I am very sorry Elizabeth, & I hope your committee will forgive me. I was supposed to have the column in this Paper around the 1st of the month, to give you all plenty of time to keep open THIS Sat. nite, but maybe it's not too late even now. Anyhow, you can still get tickets at Fletcher's. You know where that is, of course. It's on the main drag... that store where they had the little white drum and the chrome batons that we had a story about. The tickets are one buck, and this affair is going to jam the Vic High, and is called "Victoria Talent On Review." They are gonna split the taking 50-50 between Ed. Farey's Christmas Party & L.O.F. Charities, so HOW could there be a better "cause"??

Tippy O'Neil, who has one of the best voices in radio, is going to be the Emcee, & I'm going to play Humoresque on the black keys only. If I get any kind of encouragement, I might sing "Because"... it's the only piece I know, "because" I used to have to do it, "when Company came." Apart from this, it's going to be a swell show with the Triangle Review including The Harmonettes... Roly Walsh the impersonator... Helen Wilson, soprano, and Norma Langley on the harp. There is a dancing team of Brenda Myron and Don Leckie, and that lovely comedy singer Dawn Draper. The famous magician Ernie Crookford will be pulling rabbits out of hats, and the "Three Gobs," Rieky, Fred and Jack, have gobs of new things to show you. I guess you know that Rieky & Fred were the first & 2nd prize winners in the recent open amateur contest. Members of the Florence Cough Academy will dance their way into your hearts, so this ought to be a grand evening. Keep it open eh, THIS SAT. NITE, Oct. 18th. Help yourself to a good time, AND HELP THE CHILDREN TOO.

ALTA-B.C. ROCKET RANGE PROGRESSES

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 15 (BUP)—Federal Mines Minister George Prudham reported "satisfactory progress" today on the construction of a $30,000,000 R.C.A.F. bombing and rocket range straddling the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, despite demands from the two provincial governments for higher compensation for the land.

The huge guided missile ranges, 180 miles northeast of here, will cover 4,600 square miles of bush and muskeg. A companion airport now being carved out near Cold Lake will cover 100 square miles and will be one of the world's largest air training centres when completed.

Work on the vast project threatened to stall after the Alberta and Saskatchewan governments indicated they wanted higher compensation rates for the sparsely-settled but potentially mineral-rich area taken over.

"Negotiations are progressing satisfactorily," Prudham said, however, "and there has been no hold-up in the work as a result of these claims."

The Saskatchewan government had estimated more than 200 trappers, commercial fishermen and woodworkers would lose their livelihood by construction of the strategically located air force base, and the federal government would have to provide "adequate compensation."

Lieut.-Col. B. B. Campbell of Ottawa, deputy assistant minister of national defense, was in Edmonton to conduct the negotiations. He planned to leave for Regina Thursday to discuss the project with the provincial government leaders there.

More than 2,000 square miles of the range is inside Alberta and the balance on the Saskatchewan side of the border.

Prudham, flying to Winnipeg to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, said he welcomed the announcement that nothing on this side of the international border stood in the way of export of Alberta "natural gas to the Pacific northwest."

"This is following the right geographical and economically feasible possibilities," he said. However, he would not hazard a guess on what the U.S. federal power commission would decide on the application of West Coast Transmission for funneling Peace River country gas into the northern United States industrial area.

Prudham added that after a visit to Vancouver for the meeting of the British Columbia section of the Canadian Institute of

CONFIDENCE SEEN BY MAYOR IN CITY ADMINISTRATION

Victoria's record high tax collection this year "shows strong confidence of the public in the city administration," Mayor Claude Harrison said today.

"I think as time goes on they will find their confidence justified," he said.

He referred to the fact that 90.27 per cent of the current tax levy has been collected to date. Previous high was 90.18 last year.

A big jump in payment of arrears this year over last was revealed with 64.45 per cent of the arrears levy collected, compared with 59.23 for the same period of 1951.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

By RAY SIDAWAY

Although emcee Tommy Bartlett's baritone voice is well known to radio and TV fans of N.B.C.'s "Welcome Travelers," an airport control tower operator in Nashville, Tenn., knows him only as the pilot of Cessna 1534-D.

Tommy has been piloting his own plane in and out of the Nashville airport for years and has always had a friendly word for the glib in the tower. Recently she greeted him with, "Control tower to Cessna 1534-D. Pardon me for getting personal, but you have such a nice voice. You should try for a job in radio."

Martha Tilton, singing co-star of "Curt Massey"

Jubilee Hospital Officer To Study C.D. Technique

Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, superintendent of Jubilee Hospital, will go to Camp Borden in November to take part in a civil defense course, known as A.B.C. defense (medical).

Dr. Anderson was a lieutenant-colonel in the army medical corps during the war years. His present position within the civil defense organization is that of deputy director Victoria services and chairman of the Hospital Civil Defense Committee.

Civil defense headquarters also announced that a new course in civil defense will open here October 21, at 7.30 p.m. Registration may be made by phone or by visiting the Cormorant Street headquarters.

Nurses aides' training recently started and further registration is being sought.

Painful Cramps of "Monthly Periods" halted or strikingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in test by doctors!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation — who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days" — may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Modern in action! Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's Compound is thoroughly modern in action. It strikes directly at the cause of menstrual pain! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's Compound is proven by the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's Compound through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days!" See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new, improved Tablets (with added iron). Both are grand, too, for those "hot flashes" and nervous feelings of "change of life!" Don't suffer needlessly... when relief may be so near!

A TIMES FEATURE TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar class) BB (Worshipful) C (Don't Miss) D (Far-Many Days) E (To put in time)

(BB) "JUST FOR YOU" (Capitol) — Since 1932 or thereabouts via songs like "Please" and "Thanks," "The Old Ox Road," via what seems like a score of "Road" pictures with pals Bob Hope and Dottie Lamour, via a beautiful little effort "Going My Way," which won him an Oscar circa 1944, the "Groaner," alias "Der Bingle," alias Bing Crosby, has built himself into a theatrical legend.

But legend or not, and even with beautiful vivacious Jane Wyman to help him, "Just For You" doesn't come up to Crosby par. Two things hamper him. Except for a racy little number "Zing a Little Zong," the musical score is mediocre. But the weakness of the whole is the story.

The story plot itself is interesting enough. As Jordan Blake, famed and wealthy showman, Crosby is a man who has grown to acclaim and riches at the expense of his two motherless children, Robert Arthur and Natalie Wood.

To the detriment of his love affair with his leading lady, Miss Wyman, Crosby tried to win favor with his disgruntled song-writing son and Natalie whose main ambition is to be admitted into an exclusive girls' school run by Ethel Barrymore, who, incidentally, is magnificent. Unfortunately for all Bing's well-laid plans for his small brood, his 18-year-old son falls in love with his mother-to-be.

With Crosby, Wyman, Barrymore in mind I went all set to see a humdinger. Instead I saw just another fair-to-middling show.

Out from the shroud of war Continental films are slowly making their way to North America as a bright, shiny new art. What the pictures sometimes lack in mechanical perfection they make up for in their stark realistic photography, careful man-on-the-street casting and superb acting.

One of these I'm most anxious to see is "Wenn Die Abendglocken Lauten," which plays tomorrow at the Plaza for one day only. This German film is the first to be shown in Victoria from the land of our former enemy since the war.

Prominent Young U.S. Pianist to Play Here

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

An outstanding young American pianist, Randolph Hokanson, will be in the city next week, to give the opening concert of the Victoria Musical Art Society's 1952-53 season, an especial lustre.

The recital he will present on Wednesday, October 22, in Victoria High School Auditorium, will be a replica of that which he recently gave in New York's Town Hall.

But the recent New York concert was not his first in the metropolis. Hokanson made his debut there in 1947, receiving considerable critical acclaim.

He received his early musical training in Seattle and was making frequent public appearances while in his teens. During that time, he attracted the interest of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, one of Victoria's prominent patrons of music.

Through her, he met Harold Samuel, the great English pianist and teacher, who offered him a scholarship that took him to London and placed him under Samuel's tuition. Following the sudden death of Harold Samuel, Hokanson continued his studies under Dame Myra Hess.

He also studied with Carl Friedberg at the Juillard School in New York and soon afterward was launched on a full scale career as concert pianist under Columbia Concerts Corporation. Hokanson has appeared under

Ask a Doctor

Why is breakfast so important?

You can't work or feel your best during the mornings unless you make a good breakfast a regular habit. Skipping on breakfast or going without lowers your efficiency. Enjoy a good variety of foods at breakfast but for a good, basic rule always include a proper whole-grain cereal. Among the most frequently recommended is Red River Cereal, which provides the nourishment of cracked wheat, whole flax (mildly laxative) and rye. So for fitness' sake... eat a good breakfast.

Here's how to plan "the most important meal of the day"

Breakfast is generally regarded as the most important meal of your day. Plan it right. Get the nourishment and vital elements you need from fruit juice, a cooked cereal, eggs or bacon, and milk.

Here are just two suggestions

One orange or half a glass of orange juice. Serving of Red River Cereal with milk or cream and sugar. Whole-wheat bread and butter. Tea, coffee or a milk drink.

Half grapefruit or strawberries when in season. Serving of Red River Cereal with milk or cream and sugar. Toast with butter or margarine. Tea, coffee or milk.

Did you know that delicious, nourishing Ovaltine now comes in TWO flavours? Yes, the ORIGINAL PLAIN flavour and a sweet CHOCOLATE flavour, too. CHOCOLATE FLAVOURED OVALTINE is ideal for that hot drink at breakfast that every child should have during the fall and winter months. It is so nourishing, and the children love the delightful chocolate flavour.

Royal Portage Park's Backer From Portland

Royal Portage Parks Ltd. Tuesday revealed the name of a backer for part of its $3,500,000 racetrack and exhibition project in Saanich.

He is Murray Kemp of Portland, who, with his associates, will give financial backing to the exhibition phase of the plan, a company spokesman said.

It was previously announced George Irvine, Vancouver horseman, will back the racetrack construction.

The spokesman described Mr. Kemp as a "well-known Oregon industrialist and sportsman." He also is "associated with Leo Landurand in eastern Canada," he said.

The company's amended application for rezoning of property near the intersection of Burnside and Prospect Lake Roads goes before Saanich Council again tonight.

The company still hopes to obtain permission to build a multi-million dollar resort in the Portage Inlet district.

Although no official announcement has been made, it is understood this project will include a 1,000 room hotel to be operated by a prominent western chain.

Faced With Murder Trial Island Logger Stabs Self

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 15 (CP).—Albert Fairweather, scheduled to go on trial for murder at the fall assizes which open today at Nanaimo, B.C., was taken to hospital here Tuesday night after what prison officials described as an attempt to kill himself.

Warden Hugh Christie, of Oakalla Prison Farm reported the 25-year-old logger, originally sentenced to death but granted a new trial by the British Columbia

Court of Appeals, stabbed himself in the abdomen with a broken spoon.

Authorities at Royal Columbian Hospital here said Fairweather was in fairly good condition but would give no further details.

Fairweather, arrested in Edmonton, is charged in the slaying of Raymond Boyce, who was fatally stabbed during a fight on the Vancouver Island Highway near Duncan, B.C.

'It's All in the Family' Complains Russian

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (UP).—Relatives on the government payroll is a problem in Russia, even without an election campaign.

A Moscow Communist leader has complained that too many kinfolk on the payroll discourage "self-criticism" in government offices. Quoted in the newspaper Pravda, party secretary Elizabeth Furtseva told the party congress:

"What kind of criticism and self-criticism can there be in the physics institute at the academy of sciences where 102 staff members are related to each other?"

Considerable portions of the Antarctic continent still have been seen only from the air.

Negotiated for Truce Early In War, German Plotter Says

MUNICH, Oct. 15 (AP).—A German plotter against Hitler testified Tuesday he negotiated with British agents for a truce in 1940 with the aid of the Vatican.

Dr. Josef Mueller, postwar Bavarian Minister of Justice who resigned this spring, said the Pope had proposed peace conditions that included the removal of Hitler from the German government and the abandonment of German plans for the offensive in the west.

Mueller said that in May, 1940, he informed his "English partners" that the talks could not be continued because Hitler had made up his mind to launch the offensive.

He testified in the trial of Dr. Otto Thorbeck and Walter Huppenkothen, former Elite Guard officers accused of assisting in the murder of five prominent anti-Nazis by being president and prosecutor in a secret court which sent them to the gallows.

NEW INDUSTRY

CALVERTON, England. (CP).—A new colliery was opened in this Nottinghamshire district employing nearly 2,000 workers.

Skeleton of Missing Mainland Man Found

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (CP).—The skeleton of a man missing since 1950 was found Sunday on Hollyburn Mountain across Burrard Inlet from Vancouver.

The remains were identified as those of Gordon Vance, 53, of West Vancouver, who traveled up and down the mountain frequently. Police said they believe a heart attack was the cause of death.

The discovery was made by Henry Lefevre, a Burnaby logger, while he was working on the mountain.

Canadian rivers which flow into Hudson Bay drain an area of 1,500,000 square miles.

Savagely Treated Body Of Woman Found in Don

TORONTO, Oct. 15 (CP).—A woman's savagely butchered body was found floating in the Don River in Toronto's East End today. Police termed it one of the most sadistic slayings in the city's history.

About six hours after the discovery police identified the body as that of Eileen Organ, about 35. Officers said she had recently served a term at Mercer Reformatory for Women here.

Inspector of Detectives John Nimmo said the woman's throat was cut from ear to ear, "as if America is geologically older than the point of decapitation."
